New Attack Against Boykin Income Tax Looms

ATLANTA LAWYER WORKING ON CASE; CLIENT UNKNOWN

Albert Mayer, Local Attorney, Believed Likely To File Suit in Federal Court in Few Days.

BOYKIN TAX UPHeld BY SUPREME COURT

Decision Will Not Affect Extra Session of Legislature, Starting May 1, Hardman Declares.

BY HAROLD STEPHENS.
With R. C. Norman, state tax commissioner, moving for immediate collection of the state income tax, held valid Wednesday by the supreme court, and Governor L. G. Hardman advancing his plan for an extra session of the state legislature despite the decision of the high judicial body, a new attack against the Boykin income tax law loomed Wednesday night, this time in federal court.

Albert Mayer, Atlanta attorney, corroborated reports that he had been at work upon a complaint against the income tax law based on federal grounds, and stated that he had advised his client that there was ample cause upon which an action might be based.

It is probable that a suit will be instituted within the next few days, it was said. Pending a definite decision, Mr. Mayer, who was not at liberty to reveal the identity of his client, would not discuss details of the proposed case. He said, however, that lack of uniformity would be one of the principal grounds.

Attorneys interested in the litigation passed upon by the supreme court Wednesday said that they did not plan to prosecute the appeal of the cases further.

The action of the supreme court Wednesday upholding the constitutionality of the Boykin bill answered Governor Hardman from his intention that day to issue his formal call for the legislature to convene in extra session. He announced from the executive office that the call would be made at a later date, probably this week.

"If the state were to get six million dollars," he said, "it would not be enough to meet its needs. In view of the supreme court decision unanimously making the income tax unconstitutional, the governor delays his proclamation, which he had expected to give the people today, until he has had time to view the decision of the court, in order that he may have advantage of their opinion in making his proclamation calling the legislature to convene May 1 at 10 o'clock."

The action of the supreme court will affect every man and woman in the state making more than $1,500 a year, if single, or $3,500, if married. The tax will be one-third of what the federal income tax would have been prior to the reduction made by Congress several months ago.

Forms for the returns upon which the tax will be computed will be

Crackers To Open Season Here Today

Back from the first two rounds of the 1930 baseball campaign in Chattanooga came the Crackers Wednesday night and prepared to make their debut before a home-town crowd this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Spiller field.

The rebuilt Cracker team lost the first two games of the season to Chattanooga in the new Engle stadium. Manager Johnny Dobbs saw his athletes battle their way Tuesday to the ninth inning with a two-run lead, then yield it to a furious last-inning rally by the inspired Lookouts, 6 to 5. Then he watched as his team fell short by one run in a rally Wednesday and lost the second game by the identical score.

CURRAN DESCRIBES ANTI-DRY TACTICS Wrens Student Will Speak First at State Capitol Saturday.

Leader of Wet Organization on Stand at Senate Lobby Probe.

BY JAMES W. DOUTHAT.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Charging that the 18th amendment had made the government a "murderer and an invader of people's rights," Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, told the senate lobby committee today that his organization spent $427,213 last year in advocating repeal of the dry law.

Curran predicted that the prohibition amendment would be repealed and asserted that three out of four persons in the United States, as well as five states already were in revolt. Questioned about this phase of his testimony, he added that he hoped there would be no armed revolution against the government as a result of the law.

Speaking in a calm, even tone most of the time, except for a few brief encounters with Chairman Caraway, the witness testified that the purpose of the organization was repeal of the 18th amendment in order to restore to the states "their former right to handle for themselves according to their own desires the control of the liquor traffic."

The association, he added, proposed to bring about repeal by "assembling and distributing to the American people information, of the workings of the amendment," and "by supporting the candidacies of those who agree with the object of the association."

Questioned about the political activities of the organization Curran said it had contributed $1,500 to the liberal Civic League of Massachusetts in behalf of the recent candidacy of a candidate in the western district of that state and that it now was advocating the election of three Pennsylvania officials.

The Pennsylvania, he said, were Francis M. Bohlen, running for senator; Thomas W. Phillips, a candidate for governor; and Charles Dorrance, running for lieutenant governor. Curran said any activity of his organization in the forthcoming senatorial election in Illinois depended on the attitude of Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, dry republican, who is running against former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, a wet democrat.

"Do you think she might change her mind?" Chairman Caraway asked.

"A woman always has the right to

PROPOSED MERGER BY RADIO POWERS UNDER SCRUTINY

Government May Ban Planned Combine of R. C. A., Westinghouse and General Electric.

BY CECIL OWEN.
United News Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Formation of a new giant radio organization combining the radio manufacturing interests of the General Electric and Westinghouse Electric companies with the Radio Corporation of America added another important industrial merger today to the list under scrutiny by the justice department.

Promising an immediate searching inquiry, Attorney General Mitchell said the government was cognizant of the prospective new merger and had a keen interest in learning whether it would violate anti-trust laws.

Mitchell's announcement was preceded by a sharp attack on the "36,000,000,000 radio trust" by the Radio Protective Association, which charged the justice department with negligence in not heretofore prosecuting the radio corporation as a monopoly in restraint of trade.

"The newest reorganization of the radio trust," the association said, "is a challenge to the justice department, to the federal radio commission, and to congress."

"Radio Trust."
Demanding prosecution of the new merger, the association charged the "radio trust" is seeking to monopolize "every line of radio communications, broadcasting, manufacture, television and the talking movies." Similar views were expressed in the senate by Senator Dill, democrat, Washington, who charged the department for failure to prosecute the merger.

For more than a year, the justice department's anti-trust division under John Lord O'Brien has been investigating monopoly charges against the Radio Corporation of America. The case was transmitted to the department by the federal trade commission which has prolonged study but took no action.

Radio has played a prominent part this winter at the capital where the senate interstate commerce committee heard numerous witnesses charge that a virtual monopoly under domination of the General Electric is creating competition in the industry. The senate is now considering a bill by Senator Coughlin, republican, Michigan, to create a new power and radio commission with more drastic regulatory power than now held.

One of List.
Investigation of the new radio merger is only one of a list of recent gigantic new combinations in the world of business that have been subjected to the scrutiny of the federal government. Recently, suit was instituted in St. Louis against the Vacuum Oil and Standard Oil of New York. Inquiry has been ordered into the Bethlehem Steel Company-Youngstown Sheet & Tube merger.

Soon after he took office Attorney General Mitchell outlined a vigorous policy of prosecuting all combinations in restraint of trade. He also modified the previous practice of the department of indorsing mergers as legal prior to their consummation.

Mitchell's policy has been to examine details of mergers at the request of those concerned and, failing to find reason for prosecution, to advise the concerns by letter that the department has no objection to the merger.

Merger Described.
David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation, issued a statement tonight describing the new merger in which he said his company has arranged to handle the engineering and manufacturing facilities and plants of the General Electric and Westinghouse companies used in making radio sets, tubes and other equipment. Increased efficiencies made possible by this arrangement will reduce the cost of radio sets to the public, Sarnoff predicted. Sarnoff called on President Hoover today, but he said the merger was not discussed.

An increase in RCA common stock from 7,500,000 to 15,000,000 shares will be proposed to stockholders at the next annual meeting, Sarnoff said. Out of this new issue the Radio Corporation will give the General Electric and Westinghouse companies an aggregate of 6,580,975 shares, of which General Electric will receive three-fourths and Westinghouse two-fifths.

The merger, unless halted by governmental action under the antitrust laws, will bring under a single head three corporations whose relations have been extremely close since establishment of the Radio Corporation during war days. Both General Electric and Westinghouse now have minority interests in RCA and the three have a cross licensing arrangement by which they interchange patents. This patent phase is under inquiry by the federal trade commission.

Murders Framed For 'Dead Bandit' Reward, Charged

Killing of Alleged Bank Robbers Said To Have Been Plot To Get Cash.

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 16.—(AP)—John Alsap, a former policeman, and A. P. Boyt, a barber, late today were charged with murder in connection with the slaying of two negroes in the attempted robbery recently of the First State Bank of Polytex, a suburb. Police Chief Henry Lee, who signed the complaint, charged that there was a "frame-up" for the negroes to be slain so the $5,000 standing reward offered by the Texas Bankers' Association for each "dead bank bandit" could be collected.

The pair was charged with the slaying of Will Tate and George Terrell, Alsap, Chief Lee charged, shot the negroes as they fled from the bank. Boyt did not participate in the shooting.

Both Alsap and Boyt were held in jail. An examining trial is scheduled for tomorrow. The charges were filed by Walter Morris, assistant district attorney.

An investigation by city and county officials of the attempted bank robbery and slaying of the two negroes, one of whom was unarmed, has been under way since a few hours after the killings. Alsap denied there had been a frame-up for the negroes to be slain so the $5,000 reward could be collected.

Several negroes told officers they believed the robbery had been arranged by Will Tate and George Terrell. Officials of the bankers' association announced after the shooting, however, that the bank had never contributed to the reward fund and for that reason no reward could be paid by the association.

FIRST WITNESSES TO APPEAR TODAY IN CLERK'S TRIAL

Defense Move Requesting Judge John D. Humphries To Disqualify Himself Overruled.

DOUBLE SESSIONS PLANNED BY COURT

Solicitor Elects To Place Veteran Official on Trial on 16-Count True Bill Charging Bribery.

After a day of sensations in which the defense lost a bitter battle for abatement of the indictment, a general demurrer, another fight for severance of the indictment and an unexpected effort to disqualify Judge John D. Humphries, a jury of 12 men was selected in Fulton superior court Wednesday to try City Clerk Walter C. Taylor on a 16-count true bill charging bribery.

Opening statements of the state and defense are to be made as soon as court convenes at 9 o'clock this morning, the testimony of the first witnesses to follow immediately thereafter.

Counsel for both state and defense concurred Wednesday night in the belief that the trial probably would last 10 days. Judge Humphries said he would begin today to hold morning and afternoon sessions and continue the practice for the balance of this week, at least.

Following are the 12 men who compose the jury:

Fred Cramer, Center hill, farmer; T. W. Dimmock, Hapeville, auto mechanic; R. C. Cook, 655 Oliver street, N. W.; Thomas G. Cowan, 1339 Sylvan road, S. W., clerk; Otto Bledsoe, 626 Belgrade avenue, railroad ticket agent; J. S. Irwin, 37 De Koor avenue, postoffice clerk; O. G. Barfield, 532 Ponce de Leon, salesman; J. H. Gaskin, East Point, salesman; Y. S. Jernigan, 492 Robinson street, clerk; E. T. Johnson, 841 Greenwood avenue, office worker; J. W. Bryant, College Park, insurance agent, and R. T. Aderhol, College Park, contractor.

Selection of the jury was made during the afternoon session after the motions for abatement, the general demurrer and a plea for severance of the indictment, in order to allow the state 80 strikes and the defense 112 strikes in selecting the jury, had been overruled by Judge Humphries in the morning session.

The motion requesting Judge Humphries to disqualify himself was made as Solicitor-General John A. Boykin was purging the prospective jury of all persons related by blood or marriage to members of the fund obtained by the citizens' committee of 100 to aid the grand jury in the graft investigation, which resulted in Taylor's conviction.

Three Railroads Abandon Old Union Depot Tonight

With the arrival at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning of the N. C. & St. L. train from Augusta, Atlanta will begin the use of its new Union depot, fronting on the Forsyth street viaduct. Use of the old Union depot, to be wrecked for construction of the $3,000,000 Dixie Terminal building, will be abandoned tonight with departure of the L. & N.'s train No. 3.

A force of more than 30 employees will be on duty at the new station temporarily, until the completion of the Forsyth street viaduct, an extent allowing passage of vehicles, all conveyances must approach the station from Spring street. Pedestrians may use the Forsyth street route from the north end.

Although no formalities are planned to celebrate the opening of the new station, invitations have been extended to all directors of the N. C. & St. L. to be present. They will be the guests of Thomas K. Glenn, chairman of the board of the First National bank, and also a director of the road, President J. B. Hill, president of the road, also will be there: G. B. Harris, general passenger agent, announced.

Work of tearing down the old

Union depot, the site of which is to be delivered to the United States Warehouse Company, its lessee, cleared of the old building, will begin at once. Plans of the warehouse company have been based on the expectation that they will gain possession by May 15, but it was said that officials are ready to begin construction of a great warehouse and office building immediately after the property has been delivered.

Fast trains which will use the new station include the Dixie Flyer, the Dixie Limited, the Southland and the Flamingo.

Through northbound trains from Florida will continue to unload at the Terminal station, it was said, and take on passengers at the new station. The procedure will be reversed on southbound trains.

The new Union depot, which is constructed of marble, cut limestone and tile, represents an investment, for the building alone, of $250,000. The complete plant cost $800,000. The station is among the most modern and best-equipped in the south. It will be used by the N. C. & St. L., the L. & N., and Georgia.

A new dress---

---almost!

It was soiled and bedraggled when it came to us. A forlorn, discouraged-looking dress. But our dry cleaners corrected that in a jiffy!

Away went the soil—the dust and spots. A gentle bath in pure cleansing-fluid made it clean as a blue sky in spring-time. Then it was pressed—every wrinkle soothed away till the cloth was once more smooth and fine.

The fresh lustre it has now, only real cleanliness can give. The lace at throat and cuffs is finished daintily. The lining is pressed just as carefully. You see the wonderful change we have wrought—you're delighted! For an old frock has been brought back to loveliness.

That is the kind of dry cleaning you find at these plants. Fine dry cleaning—careful, artistic work in making old things as new as they can possibly be.

Merchants Find 'Clean-Up' Drive Aid to Business

The annual cleaning, painting and planting drive sponsored by the woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce is stimulating business for the local merchants, it was reported Wednesday.

Paint houses, dry cleaners, beauty shops, cleaning services, seed and shrub houses, department stores and other shops have been busier than usual answering demands of citizens complying with requests of Cleanup Week, it was said.

The drive is under direction of Mrs. Virginia Goudy, chairman of the woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce. "The merchants are most enthusiastic about the activities of public spirited citizens in following the urge to clean, paint and plant in the annual drive to beautify Atlanta," it was said.

Daily talks over the radio in the interests of the drive have been arranged through the co-operation of stations WSB and WGST. Among those scheduled to speak are Mrs. A. N. Swagerty, Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, Julian Boehm, Horace Russell, president of the Chamber of Commerce; John Jentzen, chief of the city sanitary department, Miss Regina Corrigan, and others.

A proclamation urging Atlantans to clean up, paint up and plant up has been issued by Mayor J. N. Ragsdale, and was read by him over the radio Tuesday. Miss Hattie Rainwater, secretary of nature study of the Atlanta public schools, spoke over WGST Tuesday afternoon.

MITCHELL ASKS LULL IN MAKING OF LAWS

Attorney-General Says Enforcement of Present Laws Should Come First.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Ready to take over the enforcement of prohibition, Attorney-General Mitchell wants to "get our house in order" before any new statutes are enacted making more crimes.

His view to the senate judiciary committee in testimony made public today, the attorney-general warned that the prison population of the federal penitentiaries is so great today that it is inexpedient to stimulate any further prosecutions.

Mr. Mitchell reported that the federal penitentiaries had increased during the last nine months by 6,277, including those confined in county, city or state institutions. He said every federal institution was overcrowded. He attributed most of the new prisoners to the prohibition law.

He appeared before the judiciary committee to talk on the resolution for a senate investigation of prohibition and he opposed this on the ground that it would "paralyze" enforcement work during the inquiry. He urged, instead, that congress enact the prison relief legislation and the measure transferring prohibition from the treasury to the justice department.

Presenting data showing considerable increase in federal prisoners during the last 20 years, the attorney-general attributed the "overloading" of the federal machinery to the prohibition, white slave, narcotic and automobile theft laws.

"It makes me feel," he said, "that we ought to go on with the order and increase our facilities for handling the criminal business we already have before we start passing any more federal statutes that make things federal crimes that are not at present."

Pointing again to the overcrowded condition of the penitentiaries, he said, "We have reached a point where, of course, further stimulating activities of prosecution under any law will get us into difficulties."

The attorney-general proposed increased pay and numbers of district attorneys as a step in improving enforcement. He listened attentively to a discussion by the senate committee of a proposal by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, to establish "auxiliary" federal judges to take care of the so-called police court work now falling upon federal district judges. He gave no opinion on this point.

Senator Steiwer, republican, Oregon, as chairman of a judiciary sub-committee, is planning early hearings on legislation aimed to relieve congestion in the courts. He said the Walsh proposal would be taken up.

Since the appearance of Mr. Mitchell the judiciary committee has begun consideration of prison relief bills and an early report to the senate on these is in prospect.

Fish Cultural Station For Georgia Assured

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(Special).—Establishment of a fish-cultural station in Georgia at a cost of $55,000 for use in restocking fresh water streams of the state was authorized in a general fish hatchery bill passed by the lower house today.

The bill, sponsored by Representative White, republican, of Maine, contemplates a number of such projects throughout the country, including one in Florida, Virginia and North Carolina. The latter station would be established as an experimental bass and trout hatchery in the Pisgah forest or the Great Smokey National Park at the same cost as that authorized for Georgia.

The measure seeks to outline a new policy of the federal government with respect to fisheries, authorizing appropriations for inquiries into oyster cultivation and other mollusca.

Recorders Abandon Court for Baseball

There will be no recorder's court this afternoon as both Recorder Callaway and Recorder Holloway will attend the baseball game between the Crackers and Virginia Lookouts, it was announced Wednesday. The two judges are declaring their holiday due to two facts: one, they are both baseball fans, and two, so many police will be called to duty at the baseball park to handle the crowd and the traffic that they will be unable to attend an afternoon court to appear against alleged violators of the city ordinances.

Postage Increases Outlined by Brown

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Postage increases on both air mail and regular letter postage were outlined today by Postmaster General Brown as the plan by which the administration hopes to cope with the deficit that has arisen in the business of handling the nation's mail.

Appearing before the house postoffice committee to urge early passage by the house of the Yates bill to change the basis of payment to air mail carriers from a poundage to a mileage scale, Brown said that as soon as it was put into effect the air mail postage rate would be raised from five to probably seven or eight cents an ounce.

New Building Plans For Bank Discussed

Officials from the Atlanta office of the Citizens & Southern National bank returned Wednesday from Savannah, where plans for a new building here were discussed. The new building is to be located across the street from the present home of the bank. The Atlanta party was composed of H. Lane Young, vice president of the Atlanta office of the Citizens & Southern National bank, and W. B. Spann, another vice president. Accompanied by architects of the new building, they were in conference with Mills B. Lane, chairman of the board of directors, and William Murphy, president.

Free Cabs Offered For Invalids Easter

Following his annual custom, A. L. Belle Isle, president of the Black and White Cab Company, announced Wednesday that he will again offer free transportation to all churches Sunday to invalid and elderly people who otherwise would be unable to attend Easter services. He stated further that orders for cabs must be placed before 9 o'clock Saturday night, in order that the courtesy may be extended.

Union West End Church Services Will End Friday

For the first time in the history of the Atlanta churches, so far as is known, five churches of different denominations in West End have united in the observance of Holy Week, which is to culminate Friday in the "Three Hours' Service" to be held in a Methodist church conducted by an Episcopal clergyman, with addresses by ministers of the Baptist, Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches.

Monday afternoon the union service was held in the Christian church with a sermon by Dr. G. W. Gasque, of the Episcopal church; Tuesday in the Episcopal church with the sermon by the Rev. E. L. Flanagan, of the Presbyterian church; Wednesday afternoon in the Presbyterian church with sermon by Dr. M. A. Cooper, of the Methodist church, and this afternoon in the Baptist church with sermon by Rev. Marvin A. Franklin, of the Baptist church.

At the "Three Hours' Service" the seven addresses on the "Seven Words From the Cross" will be given by the Revs. Franklin, Flanagan, Culbertson and Cooper. Dr. Gasque, who will conduct the service, will give the introductory and concluding addresses.

MINNESOTA DETAILS
NEW BANKING SYSTEM

Lyman Wakefield Says Old Means Must Be Abandoned.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Asserting that the "good old days" in rural banking that prevailed up to 1920 have definitely ended, Lyman E. Wakefield, vice president of the First Bank Stock Corporation of Minneapolis, today described to the house banking committee the initiation of a group banking system to reorganize the rural banking structure of the northwest.

The Minnesota appeared as the second witness in the group banking phase of the committee's financial investigation and supported the opinion advanced by E. W. Becker, head of the Northwest Bank Corporation, another Minneapolis group organization, that the group system was more practical than branch or unit banking. Each of the Minnesota institutions controls a group of almost 100 individual banks, created through an exchange of stock between the unit banks and the holding companies.

Church Will Not Pay
Missionary Ransom

TORONTO, April 16.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. James Endicott, head of the foreign mission board of the Church in Canada, said today it was unlikely any attempt would be made to provide the $200,000 ransom demanded by Yaguse bandits for the release of the Canadian missionary captured at Chanchow, China.

He declared payment of the ransom might jeopardize the safety of scores of fellow workers in the mission field. "The Canadian church," he said, "has never received a direct request for ransom, but it is not impossible to imagine the British government would discourage any attempt at payment for the release of captives, as it might create an epidemic of lawlessness. The mission out there will probably deal with the situation."

He expressed the opinion that Mr. Bridgman would not long be held captive, pointing out that many missionaries have been kidnapped before in a similar manner but usually were eventually released.

The Toronto Globe in a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent today said the British ambassador in China will be requested by the Canadian government to obtain the release of Mr. Bridgman if an appeal is made to the government.

Canada has no diplomatic representatives in China, being represented only by a trade commissioner.

Anti-Saloon Leaguer
Heckled by Students

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—George B. Safford, superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League, was today heckled last night as he defended prohibition at a meeting of the Liberal Club at the University of Chicago.

The meeting wound up suddenly when the janitor turned on the lights. It was a very wet night, which may have accounted for the slim attendance. Most of the 21 students present, however, were in an argumentative mood and they broke in frequently upon Safford's remarks.

The Anti-Saloon League leader's statement that prohibition had decreased drinking among college students was attacked by his listeners, one of whom interrupted to say that students drank more now than they ever did.

Although the meeting was almost a debate from the time it began until the janitor ended it by turning on the lights, none of the students changed his previous opinion concerning prohibition. At the close of the meeting, Safford showed eight for prohibition, eight against and five for moderation. When the meeting ended the vote was the same.

LINDY PLANS FLIGHT FOR SPEED, ALTITUDE

Will Attempt To Set Record in One-Stop Hop Across U. S.

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today announced completion of his plans for a take-off of the latter part of this week for an experimental high altitude one-stop flight from Los Angeles to New York.

The famous flier said he and Mrs. Lindbergh "later in the week" would take off from the Glendale (Cal.) air terminal in their new long-winged monoplane for a nonstop flight to Wichita, Kan., en route to the eastern city. The flight will be a long-distance speed trip at high altitudes, the colonel said.

"The flight will be purely experimental," he explained. "We will attempt to take advantage of any aiding winds that can be found, and we will search for these at varying altitudes. Our present plans are to maintain an altitude of 10,000 feet most of the way."

"If we make good time to Wichita we will return speedily and push on again. If our time is not as fast as we expect, we will stop over at Wichita. We cannot estimate how fast we will travel at present."

Colonel Lindbergh said his new ship was equipped for flying at altitudes up to 20,000 feet. It has a specially constructed temperature regulating device over the motor, while the engine supercharger assures maximum efficiency at 8,000 feet where the air is rare. The plane also has adjustable hatches over the open control seats that can be closed, converting it into an aerial coupe.

The plane, he said, is capable of a top speed of 190 miles an hour and can cruise at 140 miles an hour without aid of wind.

ANTI-DRY LEADER

change her mind," Curran replied, amid laughter from the crowd that packed the committee room.

Qualifications.
Questioned by Caraway the witness said his organization would not support the candidacy of a dry. He added that the qualifications of candidates were considered before taking action.

"If one candidate was dry and the other wet would you support the dry if he were the better man?" Caraway demanded.

"If he were dry he would not be the better man," Curran replied.

Explaining the contributions to the association Curran said funds were received from 10,000 persons. He added that $247,213 received more than $250,000 was paid out as salaries to approximately 100 employees in 12 offices.

He said his salary was $25,000 a year and that it was guaranteed by five men who paid $5,000 each. He named them as John J. Raskob, chairman of the committee; Pierre DuPont, Lamont DuPont, Charles H. Sabin and Edward S. Harkness.

Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, read from records of the association that $166,554 had been contributed during the first two months of the year. Among the contributors were Raskob, $17,500; Irene DuPont, $30,000; Pierre DuPont, $12,500; Lamont DuPont, $17,500; Richard T. Crane, $12,500; Arthur Curtis James, $12,500; and Sabin, $7,500.

"It looks like it is a DuPont subsidiary," Robinson commented.

Curran said that he had pledged for the first six months which had been paid early and it was not representative of the entire list of contributors.

$33,050 Traveling Expenses.
Explaining an item of $33,050 for traveling expenses, Curran said 12 men had been sent to foreign countries to investigate prohibition and that their reports had been sent to about 200,000 persons in the United States in addition to newspapers.

Engaged in a sharp exchange with Caraway while being questioned as to whether any persons were employed who did not believe in repeal of the prohibition amendment.

"We haven't taken a Literary Digest poll of them," Curran replied.

Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, inquired smilingly if the association had ever employed Wayne B. Wheeler, the late head of the Anti-Saloon League, or F. Scott McBride, present secretary.

"No, but we'd like to have Senator Brookhart on our payroll," Curran shot back.

Brookhart, republican senator from Iowa, is an outspoken advocate of prohibition.

Curran accused the witness of attempting to "be funny" and Curran asserted that every time Brookhart made a speech in favor of prohibition he "turns thousands of people against prohibition."

Pressed by Caraway to name any person who had told him that they had been turned against prohibition on account of a Brookhart speech, Curran said he could not give any specific name.

Public School Sculptors To Display Work Saturday

Miss Clara V. Fagal and Miss Mildred Parris, of the administration department of the Atlanta public school system, are shown, left to right, above, holding several choice specimens prepared by students of the junior and senior high schools for display in the art exhibit at Davison-Paxon Company's store.

Embryonic sculptors of the Atlanta public school system will display their works in a competition slated to begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at Davison-Paxon Company store.

Miss Charlotte Smith, art director for the Atlanta junior and senior high schools, is in charge of the affair, and the judges in the contest are Lewis Skidmore, James Klein and Raymond N. Kline.

Included among the displays most of which are carved from soap, are the Spanish boat Hispanola; "Assurance," by Miss Charlotte Smith, a group of horses and other animals by John Williamson, a junior high school student, and "Naiad," by Miss Abbie Middlebrooks.

The divorce petition is the second filed by the wealthy Chicago woman in recent weeks. The first bill was withdrawn Saturday and it was announced that she and her husband had effected a reconciliation following a joint experience with robbers.

The thieves, posing as census takers, took jewels valued at $30,000 from Mrs. Von Buelow's Sheridan road residence. Von Buelow entered the house as the robbery was going on, and was bound and gagged. The purpose of his visit at that time, he said, was to get his personal belongings and say good-by to his wife.

Following the robbery young Von Buelow was questioned by police. Mrs. Von Buelow came to his defense and subsequently announced her determination to drop the first divorce action.

Mrs. Von Buelow charges in her new bill that her husband married her for her money, and that she had spent $25,000 on him. He was a commercial aviator when she met him in Central America early last year.

Mrs. Von Buelow's former husband was Nathan T. Brenner, one-time alderman and at the time of his death president of the American Insurance Wire & Cable Company. His will disposed of an estate of $1,138,000. The widow was not mentioned, but was given a $750,000 settlement in a separation agreement.

An extra watch was set Wednesday on the statue of Robert C. Lee carved on the face of Stone Mountain, after it was found to bear traces of red paint thought to have been smeared there by vandals.

There was no clue to the identity of the ones who placed the paint there, according to DeKalb county police Wednesday. The officers stated, however, that they were seeking two men who were seen trespassing there Sunday and warned to move away by a watchman.

No further trouble was experienced Wednesday, interest in the arrest of all persons found trespassing on the property was issued by Stone Mountain officials.

House Delays Action On Bachman Measure

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Action of the Bachmann bill for additional federal judges was postponed for two weeks today after a meeting of the house judiciary committee.

The measure was proposed as a substitute for the bills embodying recommendations by the Hoover law enforcement commission.

Action on the program was deferred in order that the wet forces might have an opportunity to present rebuttal testimony next Wednesday and Thursday as the concluding phase of the hearings on measures to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

With the delay on the commission bills, members of the committee expressed doubt that any action would be taken on them in view of the few remaining weeks of this session of congress.

However, Representative Christopherson, republican, South Dakota, chairman of the sub-committee handling legislation to provide additional judges, predicted that practically all the Bachmann bill to provide 18 additional judges, would be reported in time for action.

SINGLE OPERA TICKETS TO GO ON SALE MONDAY

Seat Sale Will Continue Until All Are Gone, Local Officials Announce.

Tickets for any or all of the four performances of grand opera to be given at the Atlanta auditorium, May 1 to 3, will be offered the public next Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the store of the Cable Piano Company.

The sale will continue through the opera engagements or as long as any seats remain.

Sale of season tickets and reservations made by out-of-town patrons give indications of a most successful engagement.

Charles Howard Candler, vice president and treasurer of the Music Festival Association, pointed out Wednesday that only in Atlanta can residents of the southeast conveniently hear the famous Metropolitan Opera Company.

"There are a number of excellent smaller opera organizations touring the country," he said. "We wish there were more of them, for they inculcate a taste for the best."

The Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, is something different. No opera company in the world compares with it. It is the goal of every ambitious opera star in Europe. It pays its artists fees which would stagger Paris or Milan or London. It commands the best.

The Metropolitan comes to Atlanta with a big chorus, a big ballet, an orchestra of 80 musicians, all the costumes and scenic equipment of its New York presentations. There is nothing else even approaches the magnitude of its performances.

And no other company can present such artists—Bori, Ponselle, Fleischner, Gigli, Martinielli, Tibbett, to mention only a few.

But despite the heavy traveling expense, Metropolitan opera in Atlanta with a big chorus, a big ballet, set prices than in New York. The whole main floor of the Metropolitan Opera House is sold at $8.50 per seat.

The highest price in Atlanta is $7. The works on the Atlanta program are: May 1, "Louise." May 2, "Trovatore." May 3, matinee, "La Boheme." May 3, night, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci."

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—(AP)—Eugenio Ortiz Rubio, young son of the president, was seriously ill today at Chapultepec castle with what is believed to be typhoid fever.

So grave is the illness that the president and his family have cancelled their Easter vacation at Acapulco, on the Mexican Pacific coast.

Dispatches from Acapulco said that since the outbreak of typhoid, the president had appeared everyone there not able to show a recent vaccination scar would be vaccinated again. The place was said to be crowded with Easter visitors.

HARMON's attorney declared that the island was "outside world," that no taxes were paid and there was no register of births, deaths or marriages. He cited various legal cases in which he contended the British courts had held that the island of Lundy was entirely outside of the British kingdom.

The island consists of about 1,000 acres and has on it bungalows, cottages, a manor house and the remains of a thirteenth century castle. It has been held at various times by the French, Spaniards and Turks and once was the haunt of pirates. Available reference books place it as in Devonshire.

Dean Seeks To Oust
Arkansas Professors

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 16.—(AP)—The Arkansas Democrat says today that Dean Frank Vinsonhale, of the University of Arkansas School of Medicine here has requested the dismissal of three members of the medical school faculty and that the board of trustees of the university will investigate the matter thoroughly at a meeting at Fayetteville tomorrow.

Removal of the three professors is sought by Dr. Vinsonhale, the Democrat says, as an efficiency and administrative policy move.

The three professors who have refused to resign and will attend the board meeting tomorrow, according to the paper, are Dr. Isaac J. Jones, professor of bacteriology; Dr. E. M. Pemberton, professor of physiology, and Dr. Charles E. Oates, professor of anatomy.

No charge has been made against the instructors it was said, and their removal is intended to bring about a consolidation of duties and more economical and efficient administration, the newspaper says.

Dr. Vinsonhale has asked for the dismissal of the instructors effective July 1, it is said.

The three professors involved are veterans of the medical school staff. Dr. Oates has been connected with the university in some capacity since 1900; Dr. Oates joined the medical school staff in 1914 and Dr. Jones in 1921.

Solemnity Marks
Holy Week Rites
At Papal City

ROME, April 16.—(AP)—A solemn procession in the church of St. Mary Major, otherwise known as the Librarian Basilica, this morning ushered in the ceremonies attendant on Rome's observance of the Wednesday of holy week.

In mournful cadences the chanting priests recounted the story of the passion, as told in the gospel of St. Luke, preceded by two lessons taken from the prophet Isaiah, foretelling the sacrifice of Christ.

The afternoon was marked by the singing of the office of "tenebrae," so-called in remembrance of the darkness said to have spread over all the earth at the moment of Christ's death on the cross. As in all Catholic churches throughout the world there was a ceremony of gradual extinction of all but the last of the 15 candles, placed on a triangular candelstick to the left of the altar.

The last candle, which is Alos the highest, was carried to the church square at the conclusion of the service. The other 14 represent the 12 apostles, the blessed virgin, and St. Mary Magdalen, and their extinguishing symbolizes the desertion of the 12 apostles when Christ was surprised by the soldier in the garden of Gethsemane.

The ceremony was everywhere accompanied by the chant of psalms and hymns, the musical program in St. Peter's being particularly well rendered. It included a "lamentation" of the voices of Palestine and after the "benedictus" the "miserere" with alternating verses of unusual beauty.

Thereafter there were displayed in St. Peter's the so-called relics of the passion—what are believed to be centurion's lance that pierced the side of Christ, a piece of wood of the true cross, and the veil of the napkin of St. Veronica, with which Christ wiped his face on his way to Golgotha. A large crowd of pious Romans, swelled by many visiting pilgrims, went to the big church in the Vatican city, largest in the world, to witness that unusual display.

At the conclusion of each "tenebrae" service, the attending clergy made a noise, by clapping their prayer books or knocking on their choir-stalls, to represent the earthquake chronicled in the gospels as having marked Christ's passing away. After that in each church the one preserved candle was brought out from the sacristy, to symbolize the resurrection.

German 'Count' Again Is Sued for Divorce

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—Eugene Deschow Von Buelow, who called himself a count, again has been named defendant in a divorce action by the wealthy Mrs. Lottie Brenner Von Buelow. Cruelty and misconduct are the charges.

In the bill, filed yesterday, Mrs. Von Buelow, who is 58 years old, states that her young husband appeared at her home Saturday night accompanied by two women and a man. He proposed that Mrs. Von Buelow on her tour of the house.

Mrs. Von Buelow refused, and ordered the party from the house.

The divorce petition is the second filed by the wealthy Chicago woman in recent weeks. The first bill was withdrawn Saturday and it was announced that she and her husband had effected a reconciliation following a joint experience with robbers.

BAN AGAINST STRIKING
STUDENTS 'NULLIFIED'

Recalcitrants May Now Return to Campus Hangouts and Buildings.

HARROGATE, Tenn., April 16.—(UN)—Striking students at Lincoln Memorial University went to court today and when the session was over injunctions against 15 students and faculty members had been reduced to the unimportance of a "hill of beans."

That was the declaration of Dr. John H. Neal, Knoxville, Scope's trial defense attorney, who gained moderation of the injunctions so that all affected may return to campus hangouts and university buildings.

Chancellor J. H. Wallace, who previously granted temporary injunctions against nine student strike leaders and three dismissed professors and their wives personally modified the restraining orders to give access to the campus and buildings.

"It was a big victory," said Neal. "The injunctions as they now stand don't amount to a hill of beans. Students and professors named in the bills can resume normal lives at the universities, from which they were barred by the original restraining order."

Students now may institute some court actions on their own side of the strike controversy, Neal indicated, though he declined to explain the nature of anticipated suits.

Neal will defend Clay McCarroll, original student strike leader, arrested charged with profanity and "inciting to riot" and at liberty under $1,500 bond. The hearing is scheduled for Saturday.

Ninety-two per cent of the school's student body, 300 of 425 students, are ignoring classes in protest of dismissal of three instructors and the university registrar. They demand reinstatement of the dismissed heads or reasons for their dismissal, membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and modified regulations for co-eds.

Shotgun Bandits Loot
New Orleans Bank

NEW ORLEANS, April 16.—(AP)—Three bandits with shotguns and pistols today held up the Broadmoor branch of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company here, locked four employees of the bank in the vault and escaped with $3,000 of the bank's money.

As Policeman George Cramond was emerging from the bank two unmasked men pressed pistols to his ribs and disarmed him. Cramond was headed into a group of victims numbering a half dozen in the center of the bank and the third member of the gang entered the bank with a sawed-off shotgun.

One of the bandits took time to rifle the pocket of a boy in the bank and stole 15 cents from him. They shoved the group into the open vault, locked the door and casually gathered up all the money in sight. The clerks were liberated from the vault after the bandits had escaped.

The ECONOMY of Coal is Overwhelmingly Apparent

Did you know that VALUE in fuel is the quantity of heat your dollar will purchase? In other words, it means the economy, dependability and efficiency of the fuel you burn in your home heating plant. And when you compare the relative cost of fuels, it is quite easy to determine which gives you the maximum heat for your fuel dollar.

Compare the Cost

A ton of average coal contains as many heat units as 194 gallons of fuel oil and 28,000 cubic feet of natural gas. The ton of coal costs $7; 194 gallons of oil, $15.52; 28,000 cubic feet of natural gas $20.80. The economy of coal is thus overwhelmingly apparent.

Before changing your coal burning equipment to the use of more expensive fuels, acquaint yourself with the facts. Ask your coal dealer . . . he knows.

Greatest Credit Offer of The Constitution's Campaign To Close 9 P. M., April 19.

Get your subscriptions in by 9 o'clock Saturday evening. The great 100,000-50,000 extra credit offer and $500 gold special prize offer in The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign closes at this time and candidates are advised to use every effort at their command in getting new subscriptions from now until Saturday.

Well-directed effort now means thousands of credits for you—credits that can place you on the winning list at the close of the campaign May 31. To give all candidates the same length of time to work on the offer, it is only necessary for out-of-town candidates to see that the letter containing their subscriptions is mailed not later than 9 p. m. Saturday, April 19. The postmark will show the time it was mailed.

Saturday is the last day of the big 100,000-50,000 extra credit offer—the greatest credit-gathering period of The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign. With the close of the extra credit offer also comes the close of the $500 in gold (special prize) offer. As the final hour approaches, candidates in every district are pressing forward with undiminished zeal in their quest for new subscriptions that will yield thousands upon thousands of extra credits.

It is quite possible that extra credits obtained this week will have much to do with the winning of the awards later. The candidate who has the greatest number of credits at the close of the campaign, May 31, will be awarded a new $1,200 Pierce-Arrow sedan and $1,000 in gold. The one with the second highest number of credits will receive a new $2,835 Franklin sedan and $500 in gold. There are 16 other fine new automobiles and 20 Atwater Kent radios to be won by credits. And cash commissions will be paid to all active non-prize winners. So everyone active in the campaign will be rewarded.

Water Test Planned For G. E. Refrigerator

Alexander-Seewald Company, distributor of General Electric refrigerators, announces that a series of demonstrations will be held here today to show the moisture proof qualities of the monitor-top unit used on the refrigerator.

In making the test water is poured over the entire unit while the refrigerator is in actual operation. The first demonstration will be given in the display rooms of the Alexander-Seewald Company, 380 Peachtree street, at 11 a. m. Entertainment will be provided by stars appearing at Loew's Capitol this week, through the courtesy of Manager Carter Barron. Another will be given at the Capitol theater at 11:30, and a third will take place at the Georgia Power Company at 11:45. Transportation for those taking part in the demonstrations will be supplied in Studebaker automobiles.

In the original test, made by engineers at Schenectady, the refrigerator, while running, was gripped by a derrick and lowered repeatedly into the Erie canal. Although completely submerged, the tightly sealed steel case kept out all moisture. The refrigerator, to be used in the demonstration, will continue to run under water for several weeks, says W. D. Alexander, president of the Alexander-Seewald Company.

This Good Friday cantata was given last year by the choir of St. Luke's and it proved so charming and lovely a presentation that the congregation and their many friends who heard it a year ago have been insistent in their requests that it be repeated. The general public is cordially invited to hear it.

Soloists will be Mrs. Hugh Hodgson and Miss Margaret Nelson, sopranos; Dan Scurlock and Milton Pearson, tenors; and C. D. Kimbro, baritone. Mr. Hodgson will be at the console of the organ, while Miss Mozelle Horton will be the pianist.

CONVENTION BUREAU IN NEW HOME TODAY

Spring St. Quarters To Be Taken Over on Organization's 17th Birthday.

New quarters of the Atlanta Tourist and Convention Bureau, at 246 Spring street, N. W., will be opened to the public today with a reception on the 17th anniversary of the bureau. Officers and directors will be hosts to friends of the organization, from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Through the instrumentality of the bureau, some of the nation's largest and most important conventions have been brought to Atlanta. Not content with merely bringing the conventions here, the bureau has always seen to it that the delegates were entertained properly and left Atlanta pleased with its people and hospitality. It was said.

A total of 4,400 conventions have been entertained here since organization of the bureau. Attendance at the conventions were approximately 940,000, each person remaining here an average of three days. Estimates are that the visitors have left something like $20,000,000 in Atlanta.

Officers of the bureau are: F. J. Paxson, president; Ivan Allen, vice president; W. F. Perkins, treasurer; and Fred House, executive secretary. The program today will include a meeting of the executive committee of the Association of County Commissioners at 10:30 o'clock, a buffet luncheon to the commissioners at 12:30 o'clock, a reception from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock, and a buffet luncheon at the Atlanta Hotel Greeters at 7 o'clock.

Scene of Oratory Finals Familiar To Ex-Gov. Slaton

To one of the judges in the state finals of the national high school oratorical contest, sponsored in Georgia by The Constitution, visiting the chamber of the house of representatives Saturday afternoon to listen to the speaking will be more or less in the nature of a homecoming.

That particular judge is former Governor John M. Slaton. The other two, however, President Harvey W. Cox, of Emory University, and Mel Wilkinson, Atlanta businessman, have not been particularly identified with the scene of the contest.

But Mr. Slaton can measure his public career from membership in the house of representatives. He was speaker of the house in 1905-06 and 1907-08, graduating from it to become the presiding officer of the senate for the next four years.

Briefly, when Hoke Smith left the governor's office to go to the senate in 1911, Mr. Slaton served as governor, and in June, 1913, was inaugurated for a regular term. Many other former governors and officials of Georgia can look back to terms in the house of representatives served in the same room in which the contest will take place. Among them are the present governor, L. G. Hardman, T. W. Hardwick, Hoke Smith and the late N. E. Harris.

The late Senator A. O. Brown was a member of the house in 1892-93.

Men and women in all walks of life are now seeking positive value. They are demanding the most and best for their dollars. And so today more than ever the trend is to Buick.

Not only are motorists driving 700,000 more Buicks than any other of the 15 makes of cars in its price class—not only are they awarding Buick from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of these fifteen makes—but they are giving Buick a greater proportion of the total sales in its field than at any previous period in Buick history.

See Buick with Body by Fisher—compare it—consider the tremendous buyer preference revealed in the above figures—and you'll agree that Buick does provide greater value in all elements of motor car appeal.

MARY BAKER MURDER SUSPECTS DOWN TO ONE

Officers Have Failed To Locate Former Roommates of Slain Girl.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—All suspects but one were dropped from consideration today by authorities seeking the man who assaulted and murdered Miss Mary Baker, navy department employee, last Friday night on a lonely road near the Arlington National cemetery.

The extensive examinations which have been conducted by agents of the department of justice, Washington and Virginia detectives, led to this announcement today but the name or whereabouts of the man, who is out of Washington, were not divulged.

A report that the desk of the slain girl had been rifled before detectives examined it and removed letters and snapshots, was current at detective headquarters today.

At the same time officers failed to locate the two girls who lived with Miss Baker at Lyon Park, Va., who were wanted for further questioning on the theory that they had not told all they knew about Miss Baker's acquaintances. The detectives were confident, however, that they would be found when wanted.

The last of the suspects held was released today and officers said that unless the one individual they are now seeking can be found the investigation may be brought to a standstill. Search of a pond near the spot where the girl's body was found failed today to yield either the gun with which she was shot or missing articles of clothing she wore when last seen alive.

Student Not Missing; Only Visiting Friends

Gerald Bird, Emory University theological student for whom a search was started Saturday, dispelled the fears of his friends that he had fallen a victim of foul play when he returned to his classes Wednesday morning. It seems that he had been visiting friends in Oxford for the week-end and delayed his return an extra day, as Monday was a holiday. He expressed surprise that his fellow students had been worried over the safety.

ATLANTA MAN HAS GAINED 12 POUNDS IN THREE WEEKS

Mitchell Weighed Only 128 Pounds When He Began Sargon. Now Weighs 140. Brimful of New Strength.

"I'd always been a strong and healthy man, but this last winter I had one heavy cold right after another. They pulled me down to where I didn't weigh but a hundred and twenty-eight pounds and it looked like all the strength and energy I ever had were leaving me. My nerves were right at a 'breaking' point and I got so little sleep I'd get up feeling tired and 'all in' and I could hardly drag myself to work. My liver was so sluggish I didn't know what it was to have a natural bowel movement. I had terrific sick headaches and dizziness, dizzy attacks, and my skin and the whites of my eyes were as yellow as a pumpkin. My stomach got all upset from constantly dosing with physics and so-called cold remedies, and nearly everything I ate would put me in misery with indigestion.

"My mother-in-law had been taking Sargon with such fine results she insisted that I try it. I've taken just three bottles of this wonderful medicine now and I feel like a man made over! I gained twelve pounds in about three weeks and I have so much strength and vigor I tackle my work with the 'punch' of an athlete! I have such a good appetite that three square meals a day don't satisfy me and I often have to eat between meals; and I never have one sign of indigestion. My nerves are strong as steel and I sleep like a schoolboy!

"I also took Sargon Soft Mass Pills along with the liquid and they've 'waked up' my liver and rid me of constipation so that I no longer have to take laxatives; bilious, dizzy spells and sick headaches are all things of the past, and my color is clear and healthy-looking.

"My wife is taking Sargon now and she's feeling better than she has in years, so we call it our best family friend; and no opportunity shall ever pass us to put in a good word for this great medicine."

The above statement was made recently by J. D. Mitchell, of 705 Lindsey St., N. W., Atlanta, employed by the Whittier Mills.

The Sargon Man is at Jacobs' Main Store, 48 North Broad St., Grant Bldg., meeting the public and giving the facts about this remarkable new scientific discovery. He cites cases after case of Sargon's wonderful powers at work; personal instances of health renewed and happiness restored, right here in this city. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

Burning passages, painful elimination, night risings may be the warning of a serious sickness which may affect your entire health. Take steps at once. Get Santal Midy from your druggist. For half a century, it has been prescribed by doctors throughout the world for rapid relief.

Santal Midy Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles. The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must first cure the circulation—send fresh healthy blood to heal and strengthen the affected parts. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by all druggists who have authority to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied user. It's a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Jacobs' Drug Stores.—(adv.)

Fund of $1,533 Assures Children Of Park Ponies

Assurance that every child in Atlanta who wants a pony ride at Atlanta parks will have that opportunity for payment of a nominal fee was given Wednesday by Mayor I. N. Magdalen.

A fund of $1,533.96 is set up for that purpose and cannot be used for any other, according to Atlanta's chief executive.

When the idea of pony tracks at Atlanta's two larger parks, Piedmont and Grant, was first conceived, in 1927, the Georgia Power Company contributed $500 to a trust fund for that purpose and the Coca-Cola Company also made a contribution.

Ponies for that year cost $1,520.75, and Mayor Magdalen, regarded as one of the most sagacious live stock traders in this section of the country, bought them. At the end of the season the ponies were placed on the auction block, Mr. Magdalen doing the officiating, and brought $1,622.50.

The money contributed by the power company and the Coca-Cola company was tendered to the donors, but power company officials declined to accept their portion, declaring they wished it to remain in trust, and the $500 is still there.

The highest amount ever paid for the ponies was $1,540.50, and Mr. Magdalen Wednesday was of the opinion that there is enough money left to buy all Atlanta needs for the coming season.

In addition to making more than $1,000 on the purchase and sale of the ponies, during the three years the ponies have been in service, here, they brought in $13,500.06 in the small fees which are charged for the rides.

Receipts in 1927 were $5,857.16; in 1928, $3,437.20, and in 1929 $4,105.70. Cost of operation was less than half the money received, according to authorities.

Improvements Made At Lakewood Park

Improvements within the grounds of Lakewood park during the winter and spring have approximated $10,000 and Fulton county will spend a total of nearly $125,000 on roads and streets in the neighborhood of the popular amusement resort, it was announced Wednesday by Oscar Mills, general manager of the park.

The rebuilding of Lakewood avenue with its work of resurfacing and repaving for two miles, will open up one of the three arterial entrances by automobile to the park. Hitherto portions of this avenue have been so rough that it was almost impassable. Stewart avenue is being widened for a distance of about four miles in the general program of road improvement which Fulton county has undertaken in the south part of the county. Mr. Mills said.

Within the park the largest item of improvement expense has been on the various rides and mechanical pleasure devices which have been repaired, renewed and repainted during the winter and spring season. The grounds force has been busy the past few weeks in raking, cleaning and planting operations and in some additional landscape work.

Man Fined for Fight With Policewomen

The story of a battle between policeman and a man in a local hotel room was related Wednesday in Judge Jesse M. Wood's criminal court of Atlanta when J. C. Williams appeared on charges of possessing whiskey and resisting arrest.

As the policeman entered the room, Williams ran to the bathroom and tried to dive out of the window, it was said. J. C. B. Howell, a city policeman, grabbed Williams by the belt, and pulled him back into the room. During the struggle, Williams bit Mr. Howell on the thumb, whereupon he resorted to a use of a blackjack, just as male police reinforcements arrived, the court was told. Mrs. V. McDonough, a city policeman, assisted in making the arrest. Judge Wood sentenced Williams to pay $150 or serve 10 months on the whiskey charge, and pay a $50 fine or serve four months on the charge of resisting arrest.

$84,333.64 Is Paid In Tobacco Taxes

Tobacco tax collections for the past month totaled $84,333.54, R. Eugene Matheson, state revenue commissioner, announced Wednesday.

Monthly receipts from the tax on cigars and cigarettes for the past six months, according to a table released by Mr. Matheson, were: November, $95,624.56; December, $127,348.21; January, $82,608.42; February, $90,649.63; March, $80,003.62; and April, $84,333.54. The total exceeds the total for the same period of last year by $170,114.94, and the average monthly revenue was $83,624.55.

All the tobacco tax money goes toward payment of pensions for Confederate veterans and their widows.

BECK'S WET REVOLT.

In dealing with the problem of prohibition, whether for the constitutional policy or against it, reason and righteousness require that one should have respect for facts which qualify the law.

It is rather strange then to find a man who has been several times vested as a "learned doctor of laws" and is accepted, as Congressman Beck is, as a trustworthy authority upon the cardinals of the federal constitution, dealing furtively and unfairly with the established interpretations of that great and solemn law.

Although a rank partisan republican, Congressman Beck addressed a Jefferson Day celebration at Carnegie Hall in New York, sponsored by anti-prohibition associations. In his address Dr. Beck boldly asserted that "revolt against the eighteenth amendment involves no disrespect to the constitution of the fathers." That dictum is characterized by leading prohibitionist congressmen as "an incitement to rebellion"—and that is exactly what it is.

Leaving out of the case personal favor or antagonism to the policy contained in the amendment, the stern fact remains that it is constitutional law, supreme law, and federal and state administrators, legislators and judges are constitutionally bound thereby and sworn to "support this constitution." If revolting against the constitution is keeping the oath to support it, then black is white and a lie is eternal truth.

Dr. Beck said that "if the constitutional convention of 1787 had had the slightest conception that, under its amending power, the 18th amendment would one day be adopted, they would have adjourned sine die." That sounds funny and foolish when spoken into the face of what some of the great authors of the constitution said about it. Madison, called the "father of the constitution," declared the "right of the people to abolish or alter this government as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness." James Wilson, also a Pennsylvanian as is Dr. Beck, and afterwards a justice of the supreme court of the nation, said the people "always retain the right of abolishing, altering, or amending this constitution, at whatever time, and in whatever manner, they shall deem it expedient."

Those quotations seem to make it hard for Dr. Beck to get by safely with his idea about the convention of 1787. Nor can he make good on his declaration that "if Thomas Jefferson, in his distant grasp at Monticello, had any conception of the 18th amendment, he would literally turn in his grave." It will be well to remember that the Thomas Jefferson of whom he was speaking is the same President Thomas Jefferson who wrote this statement: "The habit of intemperance has occasioned more injury to the public, and more trouble to me, than all other causes; and were I to commence my administration again, the first question I would ask respecting a candidate for office would be, 'Does he use ardent spirits?'"

So it is very profitable in a discussion to keep our facts on straight as we go along.

Also, it would be most interesting to hear Dr. Beck presenting his views of the repeated decisions of the supreme court of the United States that "it is as much the duty of a state to enforce an amendment of the federal constitution as it is to enforce its own constitution and laws." How can Dr. Beck and Governor Ritchie and other eminent anti-prohibition advocates of revolt, nullification, or non-enforcement, laugh that off?

Without arguing whether it would be expedient or would be unwise to repeal the 18th amendment, we are certain that as long as it is a part of the constitution it should be respected by those who are charged to enforce it in spirit and in letter.

THE UNION STATION.

On Friday, with appropriate ceremony, the new Union Station is to be dedicated and opened to the public service. It represents the realization of a long cherished hope to see the "old car shed" supplanted by a new modern structure of greater dignity and ampler facilities. That hope now culminates in a classic, commodious structure and auxiliaries.

The new Union Station is highly creditable to the lessees of the state's railroad and the Western & Atlantic railroad commission. The officials of the N. C. & St. L. system and of the commission have co-operated with a fine spirit of enterprise and given to the state a greatly enhanced property, to the city an architectural ornament, and to the traveling public accommodations up to date, attractive and comfortable.

Congratulations all around are in order and The Constitution most heartily adds its welcome to the new institution.

COME ON AND PLAY BALL.

Today the local baseball season is to open with a bang. The grandstand boxes will radiate with springtime millinery, haberdashery, eager eyes and applauding hands; the bleachers will be crowded with fans in full cry and the peddlers of pop will be in futile rage as they see their bottles aimed at frozen-faced umpires; while on the diamond the "Crackers," pride of the city, with a crimp in their style, will face the "Lookouts" who put it there and fight like devil-dogs for full revenge.

Baseball is our great American sport passion, as indigenous as the constitution and the eaglebird on the dollar coin, and the native man and boy is the better American for his ardent and bellowing support of the game.

Today Atlantans should welcome the season opener with a crowd that will break all records for the city and the south.

AINSLIE ON CHAPLAINS.

Every man who has been a soldier or sailor of the nation, and every father and mother of such a one, will applaud the courage and justice of the stinging rebuke given by Rev. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, of Washington city, to Rev. Dr. Peter Ainslie, of Baltimore, who took the occasion of a union Lenten service in Dr. Pierce's church to say that "there is no more justification for being a chaplain in the army and navy than there is for being a chaplain in a speakeasy."

Dr. Pierce happens to have been a chaplain in the World War and now in the reserves; Dr. Ainslie happens to be an extreme fanatic in opposition to war and all its accompaniments. But, however much one may revolt at war, it is unquestionably a breach of all justice and charity for a minister or anybody else to insult and meanly classify those ministers who go out with armies and navies to aid Christian soldiers to bear their lethal obligation with Christian spirit and fortitude; to win the non-Christian soldier or sailor to a holy faith in the justice and mercy of God and Christ; to minister spiritually in camp, and hospital, and in the article of death, when home is distant and loved ones far away.

One who has been a chaplain can understand the divine and heroic implications of the office—one that has subsisted in our armies from the commandment of George Washington, who demanded them for his troops in those times of America's revolution "that tried men's souls." Chaplains do not attend armies and navies to kill, but to soothe and to save, and he must have a savage soul, stranger to Christian sympathy, who would defame soldiers and sailors of their chaplains.

As for the Ainslie aberration of allying them with "a chaplain of a speakeasy," it can only be reckoned as contemptible beneath possible expression. The author of the suggestion must be left to survive, if he can, in the venom of his pseudo-pacifist passion. The chaplains need not worry; the nation's heart is their sponsor.

Tintinnabulating Tinkham has turned his crusading from the southern people upon the prohibition churchmen. Amosin' cuss, this Tink!

Preachers in politics are Christian soldiers, who have gone A. W. O. L. a long way from headquarters.

If liquor will make a man live 112 years, as reported from Idaho, let's have prohibition enforced to the last letter!

Massachusetts may send another democrat to the senate this fall. Those sacred coddlers up there may yet get religion.

There are many Georgians fit to be governor, but they can't make the people believe it.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Relativity.

Professor Einstein stopped five days in Paris recently and each day tirelessly lost his way. The same thing happened to him in Chicago some years ago and again in New York. In New York he was to address a meeting one day but could not be found. Having left his hotel shortly after dawn he had started to roam around lower Manhattan and was finally discovered by Isaac Cargel in Childs' restaurant on Fourteenth street in company of a fellow whom he had picked up in Battery Park. In Paris he adopted the same procedure of leaving his hotel shortly after daybreak. This he did in order to escape the reporters, he said. After that he just roamed aimlessly all day long, resting himself on a sidewalk cafe now and then to contemplate the effervescent show which the French streets offer night and day. It was in a little bourgeois coffee shop that the great savant was spotted one day and when he discovered that the person who accosted him politely was one of the dreaded newspapermen, he surrendered with the utmost grace. "I am glad you have spoken to me," said Professor Einstein, "because I want to get back to my hotel and I don't know the way. I am always losing myself in Paris. After some conversation, when the professor expressed a desire to get back "home," he was told that all he needed to do was to buy himself a street guide book and he would be able to find the road for himself. "I have three such books," said the professor, producing them from his pocket, "but they are so involved I can't make heads or tails of them. These books require considerable study, but when I start to study them I miss what's going on in the street. Another alternative was suggested, that of hiring a taxi and giving the address to the driver. "I never thought of it," admitted the great physicist. "Just the same, the great cities are labyrinths. I don't know how people manage to get about." He then got up and hailed a taxi. "Let's see, I want to go to my hotel," he said. "What's the address?" asked the cabman. "Let's see now. What's the address indeed? I am sure I have forgotten it." Fumbling in his pocket he found a soiled envelope with the hotel address on it and gave it to the driver. It was that of the best known hotel in Paris.

Mussolini And Omar.

Mussolini, so the report goes, has always had one favorite author—Dante. When he moved into the Palazzo Chigi, he promised himself, whatever the crushing burden of the dictatorship might be, to read one canto from the "Divine Comedy" every night before retiring. The duty has stuck to this resolution, although he has never been able to confine his reading to the schedule of one canto. Late last night, he said, he was reading the "Purgatorio," the second canto, when he fell asleep. He awoke at the sound of a knock. He opened the door and found a messenger with a package. He opened it and found a book. He looked at the title and found it was the "Purgatorio." He looked at the author and found it was Dante. He looked at the publisher and found it was the "Purgatorio." INDIANS PLEDGE AID IN MARCHAND PROBE

Braves Express Belief All
Has Not Been Told in Murder Case.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 16.—(AP)—The council of the Seneca Nation of Indians at a pow wow at Salamanca which ended this morning expressed dissatisfaction over the manner in which the recent Marchand murder case was handled.

The Indians held no briefs for Nancy Bowen, the old woman who hampered the Buffalo artist's wife to death, or Lila Jenson, the Cayuga spinster who pleaded guilty to second degree murder before her case went to the jury, but were emphatic in their conviction that all the evidence in the case was not uncovered and all the guilty parties not brought to justice.

To the end that all circumstances surrounding the brutal crime may be revealed, the Senecas, through their assembled leaders, pledged their support.

Only Nancy Bowen still is in jail awaiting trial, which is expected to start in about two weeks. Robert P. Galloway, her counsel, was at the council meeting by request.

"I am confident the district attorney will welcome as heartily as we do any information that may come from the Indians at this time," he told the assembled braves.

The braves sat in silence for several minutes. Then one after the other spoke with deliberation. Some complained about procedure in the white man's court, but none brought forth new evidence.

Adlai Williams, clerk of the Nation, said he regretted the impression abroad as a result of the Lila Jenson trial that non-Christian Indians are pagans.

"When the first white men knelt at Plymouth Rock," he explained, "the Indians who gathered at the approach of the strangers joined with them in praise of the Creator. The same mighty God they themselves worshipped. As to the witchcraft here, it is a freak case, we know that, and we regret that it came to such a tragic conclusion."

"I suppose it is the nature of some," said one speaker, gently. "They come with a bottle of whiskey and ask what they can find a squaw. It is difficult to be patient with such."

"The reputation of our whole people has not been told in this story, in fairness to all, it should be," Clerk Williams declared.

From one Indian came questions as to why Nancy Bowen had not been examined mentally.

"We know on good authority that there are times when Nancy acts very queer," one speaker replied.

Other speakers reflected the feeling aroused as a result of a line of questioning by the district attorney at the trial, that the prevalence of white names among the reservation Indians. They felt, they said, that a cloud had enshrouded them since the trial and they appealed to the fairness of the white race in shielding the good name of their Indian women folk.

'Strung-Up' Negro Was Church Auditor

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP)—E. D. Pierson, 54, negro, who today was found mortally wounded clinging to a tree in the Muscatuck river, near Scottsburg, Ind., his hands and feet tied, was identified here tonight as an auditor of the National Baptist convention. Pierson was a resident of Chicago.

The wife of the slain man, who made the identification, told police she believed that discovery made by her husband while auditing books in the Nashville (Tenn.) office of the National Baptist convention, may have been cause for the slaying. She declared there was some discussion in the convention and expressed the belief that "someone was hired to kill my husband."

14-Year-Old Facets
Trial for Murder

JONESBORO, Ark., April 16.—(AP)—Deprived of a one-year suspended sentence because of the protest of special counsel for the state, Joe Cook, 14, faced trial for the slaying of a first-degree murder charge for the slaying of Jimmie Hooper, 13.

Cook has contended the killing was accidental. He was allowed to plead guilty Monday to a charge of involuntary manslaughter whereupon he was given a suspended sentence of one year. This was followed by the youth's trial next Monday on a murder charge.

Cook told officers that a gun which he had carried on a hunting trip was accidentally discharged while he was talking to the Hooper youth and other children, resulting in the killing.

Get Trip to Cuba

C. E. Canady (left), district manager in Atlanta for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, and H. B. Griffin, assistant district manager, have qualified for a trip to Cuba as guests of their company to attend the annual field force convention at Havana next week. They will leave Atlanta Friday morning, going by motor to Key West, Fla., where they will sail. Their families will accompany them.

Qualification for the trip was based on production of business in 1935. In addition to Messrs. Canady and Griffin, three other members of the Atlanta agency qualified for the trip: T. L. Pinkerton, assistant manager; R. H. Moody, agent, and Walter Dodd, agent.

Floridians Rescued From Drifting Boat

PANAMA CITY, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—Stranded for nine days in a motor launch in the Caribbean sea off the coast of Panama, a family of four and a child and a negro seaman were rescued by the Cuban gunboat Patria when their boat ran aground on a reef and was in imminent danger.

Miller and his family, the youngest of whom was seven months old, started out from Boca Del Toro, Panama, for Colon April 1 in a small motor boat. On April 6 they ran out of fuel while only a short distance from their objective.

For days after that, until yesterday, he watched for craft which might help him to get to Colon. Twice he signalled passing boats with a small United States flag he had with him, but was unable to make himself seen. Yesterday the Patria sighted him about three miles off Colon and brought the party of 12 to port.

The Millers are a family of "voluntary missionaries." They left Jacksonville in June, 1928, for a cruise through the West Indies and in the course of their trip they founded the mission "Church of God" on the Isle of Pines, Cuba.

Early in 1929 they turned it over to P. D. Ford, another missionary, and left for Grand Cayman Island, Cuba. Later they continued to Nicaragua, and from there to Boca Del Toro, Panama. Failing to prosper there Miller decided to try Colon and with his family and the negro seaman departed April 1.

Upon arriving at Colon he declared he would try to find work on the isthmus, commenting: "Nine children are a lot of children to care for." He is an experienced carpenter.

Old Society Gives Way For Religious Test

PRINCETON, N. J., April 16.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Society, after 105 years as the center of spiritual life at Princeton University, will become inactive for one year to permit an experiment with a new religious plan in an attempt to promote better religious understanding and co-operation among the undergraduates.

The Rev. Robert Russell Wicks, dean of the university chapel, said a temporary organization of students and faculty members would take over the powers and work of the society. He said details of the plan have not yet been fully worked out, but that the experiment has the full approval of the Philadelphia Society.

"Like it or not," he said, "religion to a student is an intensely private affair and he hesitates to make public his inner attitudes. It is my private opinion that religious associations in colleges have not sufficiently recognized this normal religious reticence on the part of the majority of men. Fellowship in the more personal and intimate phases of religious experience should be kept for private, congenial groups, where sincerity can be protected from publicity."

"But no normal man has any embarrassment about offering his assistance to meet some real human need. Many men in college are ready thus to offer their help, but hesitate to do so through the Philadelphia Society because of the inherited prejudice against setting one's self apart."

Florida Elks Elect
Reed, Pick Clearwater

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—Clearwater was chosen the 1931 convention city by the Florida State Elks Association in the closing session of their convention here today.

J. L. Reed, Sr., Tampa, was elected president of the state association to succeed Harold Collier, St. Augustine. Other officers named were J. Edwin Baker, West Palm Beach, first vice president; W. K. Collins, Tallahassee, second vice president; L. L. Anderson, Cocoa, third vice president; Paul Randolph, Sarasota, fourth vice president; and George Cowley, Pensacola, fifth vice president. A. L. Cusson, Jr., St. Petersburg, was chosen secretary-treasurer; W. B. Delaporte, Orlando, was elected historian; and John Jensen, Deland, was named clerk.

The executive committee will be composed of W. J. Kenally, Jacksonville; Curtis Lindstrom, Deland, and H. G. Eolitz, Daytona Beach.

The association voted to send the state champion ritualistic team from Cocoa to the national convention in Atlantic City this year.

Missouri G. O. P. Head Hits Parker Naming

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Senator Patterson, republican, Missouri, was told in a telegram today from B. G. Vorhees, republican state chairman for Missouri, that confirmation of Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, as an associate justice of the supreme court, "will be the first great affront given by a republican president and a republican senate to the negro race since the days of Abraham Lincoln."

Vorhees said in his telegram to Senator Patterson that in his judgment the confirmation of Judge Parker "means that the republican party might just as well say good-by to Missouri for the next two or three elections at least."

The Association for the Advancement of the Colored People has protested against a speech attributed to Judge Parker when he was a candidate for governor in 1920 and in which he is charged with remarks showing prejudice against the negro race.

VIOLENCE SPREADING IN GANDHI CAMPAIGN

Riots and Bloodshed Mark
Progress of "Civil Disobedience" Move.

BOMBAY, India, April 16.—(AP)—Civil disobedience, with attendant battles, bloodshed and arrests, spread from coast to coast in India today.

Nearly 50 were injured in today's riots at Karachi, Calcutta and Poona, while the number of arrests was mounting hourly. Nine Europeans who were stoned by mobs, two women among them, were on the casualty list.

The only fatality reported was at Karachi, where one civilian was killed, seven persons were seriously injured and 26 others were less seriously hurt. The clash resulted when a mob, angered at the arrest of six nationalist leaders, stormed the city magistrate's court. After arrest of the leaders the situation quieted.

Among those injured in the rioting at Poona were the city magistrate and the superintendent of police, who were stoned when a crowd of nationalists attacked police headquarters in protest against the conviction of the bandit, Jawaharlal Nehru. When the police charged with batons the rioters were dispersed with only one injury, but many were arrested.

Calcutta, which suffered from a riot last night, was the scene of further trouble this morning. The nine Europeans injured there are in hospitals.

Bombay 500 followers of Mahatma Gandhi sold contraband salt in the suburbs, and the city civil disobedience committee of the Bombay provincial congress committee said that Mrs. Kamala Chattopadhyaya had sold 2,100 pounds' worth of salt before the Cotton Brokers' Association at Seval.

The bright spot in the Bombay situation was the calling off of a strike of Great Indian Peninsula railway men, leaders telling the strikers that further fighting for better conditions was useless.

The spotlight of the whole situation was withdrawn completely from the aseptic little leader, The Mahatma, who has not yet been molested by the police. His only activity today was a speech at Navsari, where he urged women adherents to continue a non-violent campaign of picketing liquor shops and stores selling foreign cloth. Women from Ahmedabad and Bombay conferred with Gandhi today, some of them telling him that they were not prepared to picket liquor shops and pointing out the difficulties ahead of them.

FLORIDA ODD FELLOWS ELECT MALCOLM BRUCE

ORLANDO, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—Malcolm Bruce, DeFuniak Springs, was elected grand master of the Grand Lodge of Florida Odd Fellows at the final business session of the 75th annual convention here today. He will be installed at a farewell meeting today.

Other officers named were J. W. Ertle, Fort Pierce, deputy grand master; Leo Walters, Tampa, grand warden; Frank Grant, Orlando, grand secretary, and Max Sarkin, West Palm Beach, grand treasurer. Grand representatives chosen were William P. Hansen, Pensacola, for two years; Frank Helm, Orlando, for one year; and J. B. Jones, St. Augustine, member of the home board.

Voodoo Votary Killed by Police After Gun Fight

KANSAS CITY, April 16.—(AP)—A self-styled negro mystic was shot to death here today among his voodoo charms after a two-hour siege by 23 policemen.

Patrolman Morris Cole was injured by a shotgun charge from the negro's shanty on the banks of the Blue river.

The negro, Tom Sims, recently discharged by a steel company for preaching voodooism to other negro employees, was reported by neighbors to have been shooting at ghosts the last few nights. Today he barricaded himself in his hotel and shot through windows at passersby.

The first charge penetrated the home of Frank Crawford, endangering Mrs. Crawford and her children. Sims was ordered to surrender.

"No," he shouted, leveling his shotgun. Patrolman E. C. Britton dodged, escaping the charge, and then fired one shot through the window.

Police reinforcements arrived, deploying behind fences and buildings. Both sides kept up a desultory fire as the officers planned to burn the house by tossing oil-soaked rags at it.

Finally an officer hurled a large stone, forcing the door open, and bullets tore off the hinges, exposing the interior.

Sims was seen crawling along the floor, apparently blinded by the gas, wounded, but still carrying his shotgun. Detective R. K. Cole fired the fatal shot from a riot gun.

FILM MAKERS APPEAL ANTI-TRUST DECISION

Leading Picture Producers
Unite To Carry Thacher
Ruling to High Court.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Ten of the leading motion picture producing companies in the United States, including Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, and the First National Pictures, joined in appealing today to the supreme court from the decision of Judge Thacher, in the federal district court at New York city rendered in January, holding them guilty of conspiracy to violate the Sherman anti-trust law.

The government brought the suit charging they had adopted an illegal uniform contract for leasing motion picture films to theaters throughout the country.

The district court held them guilty of conspiracy in restraint of interstate commerce, basing its decision on the standard exhibition contract and the rules of arbitration adopted by the producing firms in May, 1928. It declared that the 10 corporations engaged in the distribution of motion picture films, and the 32 film boards of trade maintained by the district distributors, furnished approximately 80 per cent of the motion picture film shown annually, and that it was impossible for any motion picture theater to secure sufficient motion picture films for regular operation without dealing with some member of the film boards of trade.

Under the decision not only were the 10 producing and distributing firms restrained from enforcing the standard exhibition contract and enforcing the rules of arbitration but they also were required to continue to furnish films to exhibitors without requiring them to subscribe to the contract and rules.

The corporations denied that the agreement to use exclusively with exhibitors the standard exhibition contract and the rules of arbitration amounted to coercion or a conspiracy in restraint of interstate commerce. Among other grounds urged for taking the appeal they declared that the contract and the rules had been adopted in resolutions by the trade practice conference held under the auspices of the federal trade commission and were approved by that commission.

Automobile Tariff Advanced by France

PARIS, April 16.—(AP)—From 10 to 60 per cent higher tariffs on American automobiles became effective today under a bill passed quickly by the chamber of deputies and the senate in night sessions yesterday.

The bill was squeezed through the senate between arguments on budget. The government contended the law was intended merely to simplify the customs routine by changing from ad valorem to specific duties, but the preamble to the bill and the arguments in parliament were based upon the theory that the French auto industry needs more protection.

American makers who are affected by the new tariffs said that the low priced heavy car would suffer most.

3 More Days To Get 100,000-50,000 EXTRA CREDITS To WIN $500 in GOLD

What You Can Do By Starting Now!

So rapidly do tremendous totals of credits accumulate for candidates, particularly NOW during the GREATEST extra credit period of the campaign.

Here's How They Count

Entry Blank	5,000 Credits
First Subscription Credit	10,000 Credits
2 New $9.50 Prepaid Subscriptions	30,000 Credits
2 New $5.00 Prepaid Subscriptions	10,000 Credits
2 New Yearly Contract Subscriptions	15,000 Credits
Total	70,000 Credits

These figures do not include the EXTRA CREDITS that would be forthcoming at the end of the extra credit offer.

Come on Time--Mail on Time

All contestants intending to turn in their subscriptions personally at Campaign Headquarters are cautioned to be inside The Constitution Building by 9 o'clock Saturday night, April 19, in order to have their subscriptions apply on the 100,000-50,000 extra credit offer and $500 gold special prize offer. All contestants residing outside of Atlanta intending to mail their subscriptions and remittances are cautioned to be very careful to post them early enough so that the postmark of not later than 9 P. M., April 19, is obtained. This mailing privilege gives outside contestants the same opportunity to work right up to the closing hour that is enjoyed by Atlanta contestants.

Do Your Best Now!

Take Advantage of the Extra Credit Offer

In the next three days you can establish yourself in the race for The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 list of prizes so as to be counted among the big prize winners at the end of the campaign.

The 100,000-50,000 extra credit offer, whereby 100,000 extra credits are given for every $30 worth of New prepaid subscriptions and 50,000 extra credits are given for every $30 worth of New contract subscriptions, will end at 9 o'clock next Saturday evening, April 19.

These extra credits are given in addition to the regular credits allowed on each individual subscription, and this offer is POSITIVELY the GREATEST extra credit offer of the entire campaign. If you have turned in as much as $30 worth of New prepaid subscriptions during the period closing Saturday night, you will earn 100,000 extra credits. If you have turned in $30 worth of New contract subscriptions, you will have earned 50,000 extra credits.

And for every dollar over the $30 worth you will receive the pro rata share of extra credits. The more New subscriptions you turn in the more extra credits you will earn. EVERY NEW SUBSCRIPTION TURNED IN THIS WEEK (CONTRACT OR PREPAID) IS WORTH MORE IN EXTRA CREDITS THAN WILL BE LATER.

Two Plans for Obtaining Subscriptions

Your spare time can pay you big dividends by becoming active in The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign. The first grand prize is a $3,120 Pierce-Arrow Sedan and $1,000 in gold. The second grand prize is a $2,835 Franklin Sedan and $500 in gold. There are 16 other fine new automobiles and 20 Atwater Kent Radios besides cash commissions for all active non-prize winners.

Credits are all you need to win one of the awards and credits are given you for securing renewal and new subscriptions to The Atlanta Constitution. You may get these subscriptions anywhere and from anyone and two plans are offered to you for obtaining them.

You can take subscriptions by contract, whereby the New subscriber signs to take The Constitution for a period of 6 months or 12 months and they pay the carrier each week for the paper. You do not collect any money whatever for these subscriptions.

Or you can take prepaid subscriptions from both Old and New subscribers and they pay in advance.

$500 in Gold--Special Awards

In addition to the extra credits given for New subscriptions you have the opportunity of winning part of $500 in gold to be given as special awards. Five hundred in gold will be given to the seven candidates turning in the highest amounts of New subscription business during the period starting March 26 and ending at 9 p. m., April 19.

First Prize	$200
Second Prize	100
Third Prize	75
Fourth Prize	50
Fifth Prize	25

GOVERNMENT GROUND MAY PASS TO GEORGIA

Transfer of Blyth Island Acres for Encampment Site Seen as Probable.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—(Special.)—Transfer of government property on Blyth island, near Brunswick, to the Georgia national guard as a military reservation and encampment ground was indicated today after a conference between Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, and officials of the war and navy departments.

At the request of Adjutant General Homer Parker, of Georgia, bills were introduced in the senate and house recently by Senator George and Representative W. C. Lankford, of Douglas, with a view of having the transfer authorized. The property, consisting of approximately 1,000 acres and valued at some $25,000, had previously been advertised for sale, but at the time set for formal opening of bids yesterday it was disclosed that not a single bidder came forward.

In view of this development, the Georgia senator conferred with officials of the two departments today and gained from them an agreement to assign the property to the state national guard, subject to the consent of President Hoover, who must issue an executive order. It is expected that this will be forthcoming without difficulty.

The property is now owned by the navy department and was to be sold under the surplus military and naval property act of a few years ago. Before it can be allotted to the Georgia

HOUSE LEATHER DUTY WINS IN CONFERENCE

Senate Conferees Accept House Ideas on Hides, Leather and Shoes.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Ignoring a quartet of decisive senate votes against any duties, the senate conferees on the tariff bill today accepted and accepted the house rates on hides, leather, and shoes, which for years have been allowed free entry into the United States.

The proposed senate increases in rates on hides, from 12 1/2 to 30 per cent on leathers and 20 per cent on boots and shoes—long in bitter controversy in both houses—were restored to the Hawley-Smoot bill.

With one exception, the house increased tariffs on leather gloves of all descriptions also were agreed to. The proposed senate increases in rates on narrow leaces, against which demonstrations have been staged in French lace centers, were discussed but no decision was reached.

They are expected to be settled tomorrow. The vote on hides and shoes was along strict party lines with the three republicans from each house voting for duties and the two democratic gains in each group opposing them.

Western republicans and democrats opposed the house rates when the bill was before the senate on the ground that whatever benefit would accrue to the cattle raisers from the hide tariff would be taken away by increases resulting from the leather and shoe rates.

A big program is ahead for Friday, with a score of departmental sessions in addition to the convention routine. The main convention will be brought to a close on Saturday morning.

Supervisors that rigidly excludes the unsympathetic teacher, and a rigid system, whereby every teacher knows "how she stands" every month.

The Alice McClellan Birney preschool banner, donated by Mrs. Clifford Walker, Atlanta, was awarded to Mrs. John W. Lloyd for the fifth district. Awarding of two cups for endowment funds, one of which was won by the White Bluff P. T. A. was held up when one of the cups was discovered to be missing. Winners of the state poster contest were announced, but, as in the case of the cups, the awards in the state scrapbook contest, which had not been judged, were to be made later.

Responding to an invitation by Wilton E. Cobb, secretary of the Macon Chamber of Commerce, to hold next year's state convention here, Mrs. Miller expressed appreciation for hospitality. The annual meeting place is not chosen until later.

Mrs. Miller, urging the congress "to love and serve" the president-elect, then delivered the gavel to Mrs. Hankinson. The latter, with a few words, brought the convention to a close.

The scrapbook awards were not completed until tonight, the Charles H. Bruce school being awarded the silver cup offered by the Atlanta Journal for the best scrapbook. Bass Junior High school, of Atlanta, was a close second.

There were eight gold star awards for posters, in all, and in addition to the first and second prize winners, there were the following: Virgil Powers and Alexander No. 2, P. T. A. of Macon; Innan, O'Keefe and Pryor Street P. T. A. of Atlanta; Waters Avenue P. T. A. of Savannah.

Science Outstrips Spirit, Says Dr. Brittain at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 16.—(AP)—Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of the Georgia School of Technology, urged the southeastern division of the National Electric Light Association Wednesday not to overlook the humanities, lest "we be swamped with the force of our own undirected progress."

"No matter how much we believe in science," he said, "we shall be brought up with a sharp jerk if we overlook the humanities. We may push the skilled hand and brain to such an extent that they will resemble the Martians of the fancied tale, but if we look to our best interests, industry and education will also give heed to the character behind those powerful forces."

"Together we should study the problem and see that the engineer, the technician and the scientist are induced to take part in government as well as in invention and material progress. Of what advantage will it be to our lives and civilization if we here can see the front page of the London Times on the morning of publication or fly from Augusta to San Francisco in one day if we have a moral breakdown in our local, state, or federal forces?" the educator asked.

"For our own salvation," he emphasized, "there must be co-operation between industry and the right kind of education. This is a mechanical age," he warned, "and not only so, but the training of man has lagged behind his creation until we are in danger of being swamped by our own machines."

"We are so dazzled by the triumphs of the practical and the material," he added, "as to look almost with disdain upon anything else in life." He quoted Charles Steinmetz as saying "Machines and inventions have gone so far in advance that the next step must be in the direction of the educational and spiritual; if, as he added, there is a God. Nor can we leave Him out of our calculations unless we are willing to see this country go in the direction of Russia and bolshevism," Dr. Brittain said.

UNEMPLOYMENT HUGE PROBLEM, SAYS PETRY

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 16.—(AP)—Better pay and shorter working periods were recommended today by O. E. Petry, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, as a means toward final solution of the unemployment problem. Speaking to the 32nd annual convention of the state federation, he said that lack of employment is the most serious problem confronting America today. The solution of the problem, he declared, could be achieved only while we recognize the fact that labor is to be performed in the main by machinery, and the workers watching the machines should be well paid for short work periods, thereby creating a market for the products.

President Petry charged that the "present attitude of capital" is that "they should be the sole beneficiaries of the invention of labor-saving machinery." Such an idea, he declared, is economically unsound and bound to end in disaster.

The speaker quoted statistics compiled by the American Federation of Labor which, he said, "prove that unemployment is not idle gossip, but a concrete obstacle to lasting prosperity in this country."

"Mergers of one kind and another, together with the invention of labor-saving machinery, have enabled fewer workers to do the work of the world. This represents progress and organization, but it also represents progress, even though there are some casualties along the way."

MURDER DEFENDANT BEGINS THIRD FIGHT
MIAMI, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—Defense counsel for William A. Hick, standing trial for the third time for the murder in 1925 of Robert Reese Barber, today brought the first of their 75 witnesses into Dade county circuit court in an attempt to establish innocence of their client.

Three of the witnesses testified that they had seen Barber since his alleged death in August, 1925, a short time before his mutilated body was reported found floating in Dania canal in Broward county.

Other witnesses brought to the stand today, after the state closed its case at 9:50 a. m., told of failure of Barber's brothers to identify the body when it was found, and of the actual finding of the corpse.

Mrs. R. L. Woodruff, Atlanta, Barber's former wife, was the last state witness before the jury was closed its case. She testified that she had not seen Barber or heard from him since 1925, the time when he was alleged to have been killed.

Today was the third day of Hick's trial on charges of killing Barber. He was convicted in 1927, but supreme court reversed the decision. The second trial, held last fall, resulted in a mistrial when a Broward county jury failed to agree. The trial is being conducted here before Judge A. V. Long, of Gainesville, and a change of venue.

YOUTH FACES JURY FOR KILLING FATHER

MOULTREE, Ga., April 16.—(AP)—Testimony that G. L. Wynn, in a drunken rage, made three attempts to slash his son, Lawrence, with a knife and threatened the lives of his whole family on the day he was shot to death by Lawrence was introduced here today as the son began his defense against a charge of murder.

Ellis Gordy, an employee of the elder Wynn at the time he was killed, told of the attempts to use a knife on Lawrence Wynn. He said that each time the son evaded his father's lunges with the blade and that after the last unsuccessful attack G. L. Wynn told Lawrence he would kill him and his whole family if he did not leave home by sundown.

The witness said the threat was made about two hours before Lawrence shot his father in front of the latter's place of business.

The defendant's mother said her husband got drunk Saturday night and was still drunk late Monday when he was killed. She said he struck her and their 12-year-old daughter twice on Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Wynn said a deputy sheriff brought her husband home on Sunday after finding liquor in his car and seizing the machine. She said he slept about two hours, awoke in a rage and attacked her and the daughter, then took his rifle into the yard and fired at the county jail about a hundred yards away.

She said he was even more drunk on Monday, and that she sent for Lawrence after her husband had again attacked her and the girl. Lawrence, she said, persuaded his father to accompany him to town.

The state rested early in the afternoon after testimony intended to show that Lawrence bought the gun only three hours before the slaying, and shot his father without any immediate provocation.

Sheriff T. V. Beard and Chief of Police Ed Williams said Lawrence told them soon after the killing that he bought the pistol without intending to kill his father, meaning only to "shoot him in the leg to teach him that he meant it when he told him he had to leave his treatment of his mother and sister."

The officers said the son told them he shot him as he (Lawrence) alighted from his automobile without any exchange of words at that time. The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

Georgians To Gather Today For Apple Blossom Show

JOHN A. BOATRIGHT, King.

KATHERINE NEEL, Queen.

CORNELIA, Ga., April 16.—(AP)—In Cornelia, where the apple is king, and from where the orchards, in full bloom, stretch out for miles after miles across the countryside, Georgians will gather Thursday to celebrate the annual apple blossom festival.

Elaborate ceremonies, including a parade of blossom-festooned floats, and the coronation of the apple blossom queen, will feature the celebration.

A Cornelia girl, Miss Katherine Neel, member of a prominent and pioneer family in this section of Georgia, has been selected as queen of the festival in a voting contest which included entries from Clayton, Toccoa, Clarksville, Gainesville, Demorest and other northeast Georgia cities.

Everything was in readiness tonight for the opening ceremonies at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow. Thousands of apple trees, in full bloom, afforded an appropriate and a beautiful background for the ceremonies.

Business houses, schools and other institutions in this vicinity have declared Thursday a holiday; railroads have announced a cut in fares and highways are in good condition. The town bustles itself tonight in preparations to accommodate the thousands expected here tomorrow.

A concert by the bands of the Georgia Power Company and the Riverside Military Academy will usher in the celebration tomorrow. L. Y. Irvin and other Cornelia citizens will welcome the visitors here. Addresses also are to be made by J. Frank Beck, of Atlanta; Dr. J. C. Dover, of Clayton, and Ben Gaillard, of Gainesville.

A number of luncheon entertainments have been arranged, as have sightseeing expeditions through the orchard country. At 2:15 p. m. the coronation ceremonies will take place. Then a parade of floats will proceed through the city. Dinner, music and the coronation ball in the evening will bring the festivities to a close.

ATLANTANS TO ATTEND CORNELIA FESTIVAL

The Atlanta Hotel Men's Association will be represented at the Apple festival at Cornelia by John Dunwoody, manager of the Wincoff hotel and president of the association; Frank T. Reynolds, assistant to the president of the Dinkler Hotel Corporation, and O. W. Donnell, manager of the Piedmont.

NEGRO, 22, CONFESSES BUENA VISTA SLAYING

BUENA VISTA, Ga., April 16.—(AP)—Sheriff J. S. Wiggins said today that Lewis Underwood, 22-year-old negro, had admitted killing Jim McNeal, another negro, and burning his body in a bonfire on a farm in Marion county.

The sheriff quoted Underwood as saying that he threw the charred remains of McNeal's body into Black creek, in Talbot county, about two miles from the bonfire. The accused man said the killing followed a "fuss about a woman," the sheriff said.

Underwood was arrested at Birmingham, Ala., last week when he presented a bank book belonging to McNeal and asked that the account be transferred from a Meridian, Miss., bank to the First National Bank of Birmingham. He represented himself as the owner of the deposit in McNeal's name, amounting to $344.

A charge of first degree murder has been filed against Underwood, who will be tried at the October term of court.

McNeal, a coworker with Underwood at a turpentine camp in Marion county, disappeared April 4, and the funeral pyre was discovered the next morning by employees at the camp. The weighted sack, containing parts of McNeal's body, was found in the creek last Sunday. Sheriff Wiggins said Underwood told him that the charred remains of the body were placed in the creek to avoid detection.

Ground To Be Broken Today on Berry School Campus For Building Erected to American Motherhood

Architect's drawing of the building to be erected and dedicated to "American Motherhood" on the girls' campus at Berry school, at Rome, Ga., the ground-breaking taking place today. Mrs. Mary Wadley Raoul, of Atlanta, will break the ground and the shrine will be built on a knoll surrounded by virgin oak trees, and well within the shadow of the colonial cathedral, patterned after the one in which George Washington worshiped in Alexandria, Va. The Martha Berry Circle of Atlanta, of which Mrs. Frank M. Inman is president, conceived the idea of erecting this building.

MOUNT BERRY, Ga., April 16.—The ground-breaking ceremony for the shrine to be erected to "American Motherhood," takes place Thursday on the Berry school campus. This splendid plan was conceived by the Martha Berry Circle of Atlanta, of which Mrs. Frank M. Inman is president, and the financing of the project was begun several years ago. Mrs. Mary Wadley Raoul, of Atlanta, who will break the ground, was the first woman to challenge the state to give $100,000 as a Georgia endowment to the school, and declared herself ready, as one of the first of 100, to give $1,000 to this educational institution.

The work preparatory to the building of this shrine to American motherhood has gone forward for several years under the persevering direction of Mrs. Frank Inman, of Atlanta, president of the Atlanta Martha Berry Circle, who is acting as treasurer of the building fund. The idea of erecting this building was born in the hearts of several prominent Atlanta women, but only one of the group sponsoring the movement would permit the use of her name. It was only under pressure that Mrs. Frank Inman, elected as treasurer of the organization, allowed her name to be mentioned and only then because it was necessary that some reliable and representative woman had to be responsible for the funds collected and, therefore, her name had to be published.

Atlantans and Georgians who will witness the ceremony include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adamson, of Cedartown; Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mrs. Percy Adams, Miss Charlotte Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. Aronstrom, Mrs. Hugh Bancker, Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mrs. George Bruce, Mrs. S. F. Boykin, Mrs. Lewis H. Beall, Mrs. Frances Hallinger, Mrs. A. Thirty-Second Installment.

The Duchesse de Greuze had replaced the 'phone receiver on its hook. From a small bag which she carried she had taken a tiny, exquisite instrument and set it on the table before her. Roscoe craned forward to obtain a better view. A heavy footstep sounded in the hallway.

In a cavern in the bowels of Manhattan a section of a curious map was illuminated. It showed the streets leading to and immediately surrounding the docks used by the big ocean passenger lines. The vague light shining through the colored sections of the map revealed a black-robed figure behind a long table. Above the map section a spot of red light showed itself. The map disappeared.

"H. Q." said a nasal voice. "Divisional Chief D reports that great Head Centre orders immediate call X and direct connection. Urgent. Report ends."

"Disconnect," the masked man replied. The red light disappeared. A faint sound came from the long table. A green light sprang to life under the yellow hand manipulating a keyboard.

"Head Centre, New York," said the musical voice. A woman replied. "Great Head Centre," she said. "Alteration of plan on Ruritania. Port-hole captain's cabin not practicable. Reprimand Divisional Chief C. Report on boat deck, port side, aft of captain's cabin. Act immediately. You are now responsible in person. Reinforce units covering. Officers engaged are endangered. Move."

The green light disappeared. Instantly the red light leaped up on the shadowy pillar.

"H. Q." said the nasal voice. "Instruct Divisional Chief C," came the order, "to reinforce units covering dock area. All sectors from West Thirtieth and West Fourteenth streets to Fifth avenue must be open. This is a general emergency order. Instruct Zone Officer 3 C to place group masters detailed for special duty at selected points on port side of boat deck and to supervise in person. In the event of failure, Zone Officer 3 C will if necessary follow firing routine and take to the river. Advise group master covering. Divisional Chief C will then report to me personally. Move."

The red light went out. Drake Roscoe returned along the alleyway, cursing under his breath. Fortunately, he was familiar with the ship, and having dodged the captain's steward he now headed again toward the cabin. But he was wasting time. Things he wanted to know—must know—were being told in the wardrobe by the renegade divisional chief. If his instinct should prove to be wrong he was blundering badly. And it was sheer instinct or inspiration, which had whispered to him that the telephone call of the Duchesse de Greuze was more important than any revelation Macrae had to make. So far he had not gathered a word. But as he approached the door he could hear voices. "Officers engaged!" (two or three voices which were unintelligible). "Move!"

Silence followed. Whereupon Roscoe rapped sharply and opened the door. The duchess had apparently just closed her handbag. But Roscoe concluded that this meant that she had been using a powder puff.

"A thousand apologies," he exclaimed. "Please don't let me interrupt you. But I think I left a notebook on the table."

"No apology is necessary, Commander," she murmured. "I fear I must hurry ashore." "What?" Roscoe exclaimed. "My pearls—they are historic, you know—were left behind at my hotel and they have disappeared!"

"But—what shall you do?" "I shall go ashore," she replied. "I don't dare to leave my husband and without the Greuze pearls! My baggage my maid will see ashore at Charing."

She held out her hand. Drake stooped and kissed the tapered fingers.

Confirmation of Parker May Be Delayed Months

Judge-Elect's Fate With Senate May Be Unsettled Until After November Elections.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—(Special.)—Political expediency growing out of the opposition by labor organizations and negro voters may force a delay of several months in the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, as the south's second representative on the highest tribunal of the land.

Although a favorable report has been recommended by a sub-committee of the senate judiciary body on the Parker nomination, it was indicated today that certain elements in the senate, prompted doubtfully by the character of opposition raised, are quietly planning to defer action until after the national congressional elections next November, on the theory, perhaps, that it would be politically unwise to inject an added issue into the forthcoming campaigns.

As the matter stands the senate judiciary committee is still holding the appointment on motion of a Parker nomination, that committee action be deferred until next Monday. There is considerable doubt as to whether any definite action will be taken then.

Delay Is Seen.
And it will probably be the administration senators who will seek delay. The indications are that the opposition will be ready by Monday for the question to come to the senate floor. Those administration senators who come up for re-election this November, however, are frankly hoping that the matter will remain in committee until the situation clears. If forced to vote in the immediate future they will vote against him.

Furthermore, those who are here working for the judge's confirmation from his native state seem in no mood to press for a vote. Instead they have started out to try to offset the attack of organized labor and the Association for the Advancement of the Colored Race.

Evidence of the nature of their efforts was given yesterday when Senator Blease, of South Carolina, put in the record a telegram he had received from a member of the South Carolina supreme court, saying the court was being importuned to endorse Judge Parker and wanting to know what position Senator Blease planned to take.

Senator Blease wired back that Judge Parker was the "south's hope" and that he intended to vote for him. The argument that the Parker voters are making among southern senators, incidentally, is that if he is turned down there will be difficulty to name another southerner in his place.

Caraway's Stand.
An influence that is carrying as much weight as anything else is Senator Caraway's charge. The appointment of Judge Parker was political, made with a view to holding North Carolina in the republican column or at least in support for its republican vote in 1928.

Judge Parker's nomination has placed the senate in the weirdest political position that it has presented for some time. There is Senator Robinson, of Kentucky, for example, who until Mr. Hoover's presidential candidacy afforded him an opportunity in 1928, bade fair to get no further in the world than the representative of a sparsely settled Kentucky district. But by being among the first to espouse Mr. Hoover's candidacy he was recently appointed to the senate. He comes up for election in November, with the odds already against him.

There is a heavy colored voting population in his state and also a group favoring confirmation. He has been caught between two fires and about the only thing that will save him will be for the nomination to remain in committee. Senator McCulloch, of Ohio, and Goff, of West Virginia, are also worried because of the bombardment of the negro association.

These are all administration senators. Another one, Senator Robinson, of Indiana, is understood to be at present in the mood to vote against confirmation. The fight of organized labor has also broken into the administration ranks through such senators as McNary, of Oregon.

The only ones, indeed, who seem to be enjoying the situation are those who at the outset began to scrutinize Judge Parker's labor record and who after scrutinizing it decided against him.

David Blair Reported Seeking Senate Post

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 16.—(P.)—The Charlotte News today says it has learned from authoritative sources that David H. Blair, of Winston-Salem, former commissioner of internal revenue, will seek the republican nomination as senator from North Carolina. The republican state convention will be held here tomorrow. Blair has been mentioned as a nominee, but has consistently refused to say whether he would seek the nomination or accept it if tendered to him by the convention.

Congressman George Pritchard, of Asheville; George Butler, of Clinton, and the Rev. H. Grady Dorsett, of Wake Forest, are seeking the nomination and may force a primary despite whatever action, if any, the convention takes.

In the past it has been customary for the convention to select a nominee and for all candidates to abide by its decision. Under the law, however, any other candidate can force a primary, but has consistently refused to say whether he would seek the nomination or accept it if tendered to him by the convention.

Thousands To Lose Ballot Privileges

Only 30,000 to 35,000 Fulton county citizens will be qualified to vote in the general election next October unless registration and payment of back taxes increases a great deal, according to J. C. Harrison, secretary of the board of registrars.

Registration for the October election will close on May 5, and unless all back taxes are paid by that time, including 1929 taxes, names of the voters will be taken off the list. Mr. Harrison warned the public.

Purging of the registration list is going forward rapidly, he said. Seven thousand letters were sent to three wards Wednesday to notify voters of their danger of being stricken from the list because of non-payment of taxes. Mr. Harrison estimated that approximately 20,000 names will be stricken from the list of 55,000 because of failure to pay taxes, death or removal.

Loew Name Given New York Square

NEW YORK, April 16.—(Special.)—The board of aldermen of New York city yesterday conferred an unique honor upon the memory of Marcus Loew, founder of the great chain of Loew theaters. A resolution was officially adopted designating one of the prominent street intersections in Brooklyn, opposite Loew's Pitkin theater, as "Loew Square."

The purpose of the designation is to pay tribute to the memory of a man who accomplished much for the betterment of his native city, he resolution declares.

This is probably the first time that any great city has given official recognition to a theatrical leader in this way.

City officials are now co-operating in plans for elaborate dedicatory ceremonies when Loew Square is officially christened.

A movement has been started among admirers of the late Marcus Loew to have similar "Loew Squares" designated in every city in which the beloved movie magnate launched his theaters.

Adventures of Secretary Hawkins

"OH, LUCIO!" CRIED THE SAD FACED LADY, "I WAITED SO LONG FOR YOU TO SAVE ME FROM RAFAEL!" "IT IS LIKE A DREAM, LUCIE," SAID LUCIO, "YET I KNEW ALL ALONG THAT RAFAEL WAS LYING WHEN HE SAID YOU WERE DEAD."

"IT IS A TERRIBLE MAN—OUR STEPBROTHER," SAID THE SAD FACED LADY, "HE AND HIS RUFIANS CAME TO THE VILLA AT NIGHT, THROUGH THE TUNNEL BEHIND THE BIG PICTURE. THEY BROUGHT ME HERE WITH ONLY MY MAID AND MY DOG—"

THEY DIDN'T FIND IT ON THAT SIDE OF THE LAUGHING BROOK. BY AND BY HE CAME TO WHERE A TREE HAD FALLEN ACROSS THE LAUGHING BROOK. UNC' BILLY CROSSED ON THIS TREE. THE TREE STARTED UP THE LAUGHING BROOK ON THAT SIDE. SLOWLY HE SHUFFLED ALONG, LISTENING, LOOKING, SMELLING. HE BEGAN TO WONDER IF HE COULD BE MISTAKEN AFTER ALL. HE BEGAN TO WONDER IF IT COULD BE THAT HE COULD FIND THAT HE WOULD FIND THE NEST.

He didn't find it on that side of the Laughing Brook. By and by he came to where a tree had fallen across the Laughing Brook. Unc' Billy crossed on this tree. The tree started up the Laughing Brook on that side. Slowly he shuffled along, listening, looking, smelling. He began to wonder if he could be mistaken after all. He began to wonder if it could be that he could find that he would find the nest.

Unc' Billy Possum could think of nothing but fresh eggs. No one likes eggs better than does Unc' Billy Possum. Now that he suspected that Mrs. Quack the Mallard Duck had a nest somewhere around the Smiling Pool or down the Laughing Brook, he was only thinking of one thing: to find that nest. He smacked his lips as he thought of the delicious bird there.

Now, Unc' Billy is very sly. Some people think him stupid, but he isn't at all stupid. Often when he is most stupid he is in reality most clever. It is part of his cleverness to appear very stupid at times. He is smart enough to know how to keep his nest secret. He knows a great deal about Farmer Brown's hens and about ducks and about other birds that nest about the ground, and even about many that nest in trees. The reason he knows so much about them is because of eggs. If you would have eggs you must know about those who lay eggs and where they make their nests. So Unc' Billy has paid considerable attention to these things.

He noticed that when Mrs. Quack left him, after he found her getting her dinner in the Smiling Pool, she slipped away into the blackest of the Black Shadows, just where the Laughing Brook leaves the Smiling Pool. He had grinned when he saw that she tried to slip away when she thought he wasn't looking. Right away he guessed that that nest was somewhere along the Laughing Brook, below the Smiling Pool. You see, he knew that there was a little swamp through which the Laughing Brook flows on its way from the Smiling Pool to the Big River. Unc' Billy was sure that somewhere over there Mrs. Quack had her nest.

"All Ah done got to do is to look around over there. Ah reckon Ah can find it," said Unc' Billy.

So Unc' Billy shuffled around the Smiling Pool to the back of the Laughing Brook. Once there, he began to move very carefully. He used his ears. He used his nose. He used his eyes. Unc' Billy can see fairly well in the dark, but he didn't depend on his eyes. He depended a whole lot more on his nose. To a

He worked down one side of the Laughing Brook for a long distance. He hunted around in that swamp below the Smiling Pool. And for all his hunting he didn't find so much as a feather which might have belonged to Mrs. Quack. When daylight came Unc' Billy decided that he was too far from the Green Forest to go back there; so he hunted around until he found a hollow log and into that he went. He was disappointed, but he was not discouraged. He had wasted a lot of time, but Unc' Billy is one of those persons with a lot of time to waste.

Oil Seekers Lease Large Florida Tract

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 16.—(P.)—Continuing their quest of petroleum beneath Florida soil and contiguous territory, oil prospectors today leased 177,584 acres of state lands from the trustees of the internal improvement fund for well-drilling purposes.

The lessee was the Bay Shore Oil Company, Inc., of Miami, whose representative leased 150,000 acres of sovereignty land extending along the northwest gulf coast from Perdido bay, on the Alabama-Florida line, on down to the Appalachicola river, and 27,584 acres of land in Hendry and Collier counties.

A well is to be drilled in Perdido bay in 90 days and subsequent wells are to be sunk along the coast in the waters of the gulf. The consideration was $41,368.20 for the Hendry and Collier county lease and $1,000 for the gulf coast lease.

Seaplane Pilot Hurlled to Death

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., April 16.—(P.)—Its right wing suddenly collapsing as it was being put through stunts, a seaplane plunged from a height of 2,000 feet today and carried its pilot to death in the waters of Manhasset bay.

The body of the victim, Peter Talbot, 43, test pilot for the American Aeronautical Corporation, was thrown out as the craft hit the sea. After grappling several hours, coast guardsmen recovered it.

Talbot recently came to New York from Pensacola, Fla., where he had been an aviation instructor. He also served in the navy at one time. He was married and lived in New York.

fully reflected in the market action of the stock, as was evidenced by the 10-point break once the formal announcement of the way. The weekly stock trade reviews indicated a moderate quickening of activity in steel mill operations, attributable largely to the increasing activity of automobile manufacturers. Standard Statistics Company stated that ahead of production. President William C. Clegg, Steel, sold stock holders that incoming orders are larger than at any previous time this year, and the outlook for the year was satisfactory. The car loadings figures for the latest week were considerably more favorable than they have been of late.

Buoyant Groups.

Among buoyant features, Allied Chemical rose 11 points, Case Threshing and Vanadium about 9, but the late reaction whittled down these gains by about 4 points. Eastman Kodak rose more than 8 points to a new high, and closed up 3 1/2 points. Public Service, Cold-Cola and Standard of Kansas were also strong spots. On the other hand, American Locomotive, Eureka Vacuum, U. S. Steel, and others were weak. The Register and Southern Railway dropped about 2 to 5 points to new lows for the year or longer. Pressure against the rails was heavy, with the Norfolk and Western and others lost 2 to 3 points. American, American National Water Works, Consolidated Gas, National City, Hupp and others were strong. American Carbon, American Electric and Westinghouse Electric lost about 4. Checker Cab lost about 1 1/2 points.

Commodity markets gave a better account of themselves. Wheat closed about 1 to 2 cents higher, reflecting better export movement, and less unfavorable weather reports. Corn sold substantially and cotton rallied $1.35 to $1.45 a bale.

Credit conditions eased a little, with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York lowering its discount rate 1/4 percent, after renewing at 4. Foreign exchanges were generally firm, with the exception of sterling, cables sagging 1-1/2 to $8.86 1/4. The movement of sterling to New York is attributed in some quarters to the proposed increase in British taxes.

Vandals Fail in Plot To Derail East Train

Newspaper Editors

Gathered Capital

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Editors from all sections of the country were arriving here tonight for the opening tomorrow afternoon of the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Walter M. Harrison, of the Oklahoma City Times, president of the society, will call the first session to order soon after noon tomorrow, after which the editors will be greeted on behalf of the Washington correspondents by Norman Baxter, president of the National Press Club. The meeting will continue through Saturday and will close that night with a banquet at which President Hoover, H. W. Hickham Steed, formerly of the London Times, and Andre Gerard, (Pertina), political editor of the Echo de Paris, will speak.

The address of President Hoover will be only to the editors and the usual custom of not publishing his remarks will be followed.

ERLANGER PLAYERS ARE HIGHLY PRAISED

Atlanta has placed emphatic indorsement upon the splendid entertainment provided by the Erlanger Theater Players, but never since they made their first bow at the Erlanger theater have they received such acclaim as this week. "Uncle Dudley," the company's production of the week, is beyond question the cleverest and funniest play seen on any local stage in many moons.

Two of the popular company, Melba Palmer and Jean Arden, are receiving especial plaudits for their work this week, while every actor in the cast is giving excellent account of ability as a versatile performer.

There will be a bargain matinee this afternoon at 2:30, when prices even lower than the usual low scale at night performances will be in force.

Next week the players present "Nice Women," another outstanding comedy success from the Longacre theater, New York.

off a high embankment near Bovina last night was reported today by special agents of the Illinois Central railroad. They linked the attempt with derailment of the same train the night of March 31 at Dixon, 6 miles west of Jackson.

The railroad agents said inside spikes had been removed from a rail section on the outside of the curve but approach of the train evidently frightened away the vandals before their job was complete.

They disconnected the east end of the rail but the west end, upon which the train rolled first, was tight. As a result the other end swung back into place as the weight of the train moved over the section.

Georgia Scores First Victory Over Michigan in 3 Years, 7 to 3

CHATTANOOGA DEFEATS CRACKERS AGAIN, 6-5

GEORGIA WHIPS MICHIGAN, 7 TO 3, IN FIRST GAME

Bulldogs Get Only Four Hits as Wolverines Have Six.

By Buck Anderson.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 16.—The Georgia baseball team broke a precedent of three years' standing this afternoon by defeating the Michigan Wolverines, 7-3, before a large crowd at Sanford field today.

Porter Frye, the lanky right-hander, held the Michigan team to six hits and five of those were made by the Michigan portside batters, who were six in number. The lanky Bulldog was invulnerable on the mound after the fifth inning, allowing only one hit and whiffing five men.

Dick Montague, Michigan right-hander, allowed the Bulldogs only four hits, the Georgians taking advantage of free trips to first and errors to score their seven runs.

GOOD START.

In the first inning Butler and Superkoski, leading off for Michigan, grounded out, but Tompkins got the only free base Frye allowed, and one man was on with two out. Tompkins scored when Cliff McGaughey missed Hudson's hard line drive. Captain Straus, of the northern team, singled and took second as Hudson scored.

Hill singled for Michigan in the second, but was out at second as Truskowski, catcher and captain of the Wolverine football team last fall, made first safely. Montague singled and Truskowski was safe at second. The Wolverine catcher came down the home stretch for the final score of the day for the boys from Henry's state, after Catfish Smith had caught Butler's fly to center. Brick Davenport made a beautiful running catch of the fly ball Superko had labeled with "hit" and the Wolverines had tallied their last round of the game.

Carter Tate, who was called a substitute catcher yesterday but who is one of Bill White's two regular receivers now, worked Montague for a free trip to first in the Bulldog half of the third. Porter Frye perched safely on first a few seconds later, after a fast play. Captain Straus to Daniels, had caught Tate at second. Frye tripped around the bases to third when Roy Day doubled along the first base line. Cliff McGaughey grounded out, leaving two on bases with two out.

Then Catfish Smith came to bat. Catfish got only one hit during the game but as usual, the Smith boy hit it in the pinch and scored Day and Frye. Bessie The Great, Rothstein, earned the cognomen given him when he rapped one of Montague's offerings along the third base line far, far into the outfield for the Georgia park in quite a while. Smith scored ahead of him. Davenport was safe when the Wolverine shortstop walked, but Ed Hamilton left the two stranded on bases when he struck out.

From the pen of the Reverend John A. Dickson, poet laureate of the deepest left field bleachers, pastor of an A. M. E. church and major domo of The Constitution's staff of janitors, comes a poem on Opening Day. It beats any I might write by five runs.

Here it is:
I went to see a game of the first baseball
And they end it up in the fall.
I saw the first man go to bat
It was strak one; the catcher got that.
Just two balls more—without a doubt
And the man says The boy is out.
There is one out and one on base
From pitcher to catcher the ball is in a chase.
He told the catcher the ball was in the air
I'll do the running and you stay there.

Pitcher called the catcher and shook his hand
And said to him I am a baseball man.
The sun went down and it came night
Then all the boys wanted to fight.
Fighting is ugly in a baseball game
If I was the boys I'd be ashamed.

The Reverend John A. Dickson's poem has epic qualities. In the first two lines he senses the long road ahead of the boys—and it does look long at that.

In the third couplet he manifests more knowledge of the rules than most poets and scenario writers.

In the fifth couplet he reveals for the first time, by some intuitive genius, what the pitcher says to the catcher when they confer in the middle of the diamond.

In the next he subtly predicts a sensational ending to the opening contest. And finally he voices a protest against rowdism.

You will usually find that this column is versatile. If it cannot do everything other columns can, it can have same done with dispatch and neatness.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING DID IT.

And now we turn to the opening day—with the realization that building operations must stop and every citizen let the moths fly out of his pocketbook, or else Atlanta not only will fail to win the Class A attendance cup, but might actually be outdone by Chattanooga.

They pulled somewhere between 13,000 and 15,000 folks into the Chattanooga park Tuesday. That equals the total attendance for any two months in Chattanooga one might select from the past years.

Joe Engel, who once was appointed president of the Crackers by Clark Griffith (who nearly bought our club), is hailed as a showman extraordinary for getting Chattanooga into such a state of zealous hysteria as to march into his front gate virtually in a body.

Like all good showmen, Joe did not neglect printers' ink. For days before the opening game he ran half-page advertisements in the papers, telling the people about his new park and his new team and his policies.

Other ball club owners have dabbled timidly in paid advertising in the past. Joe set them a pace and proved its value at the gate.

IS JOE KIDDING US?

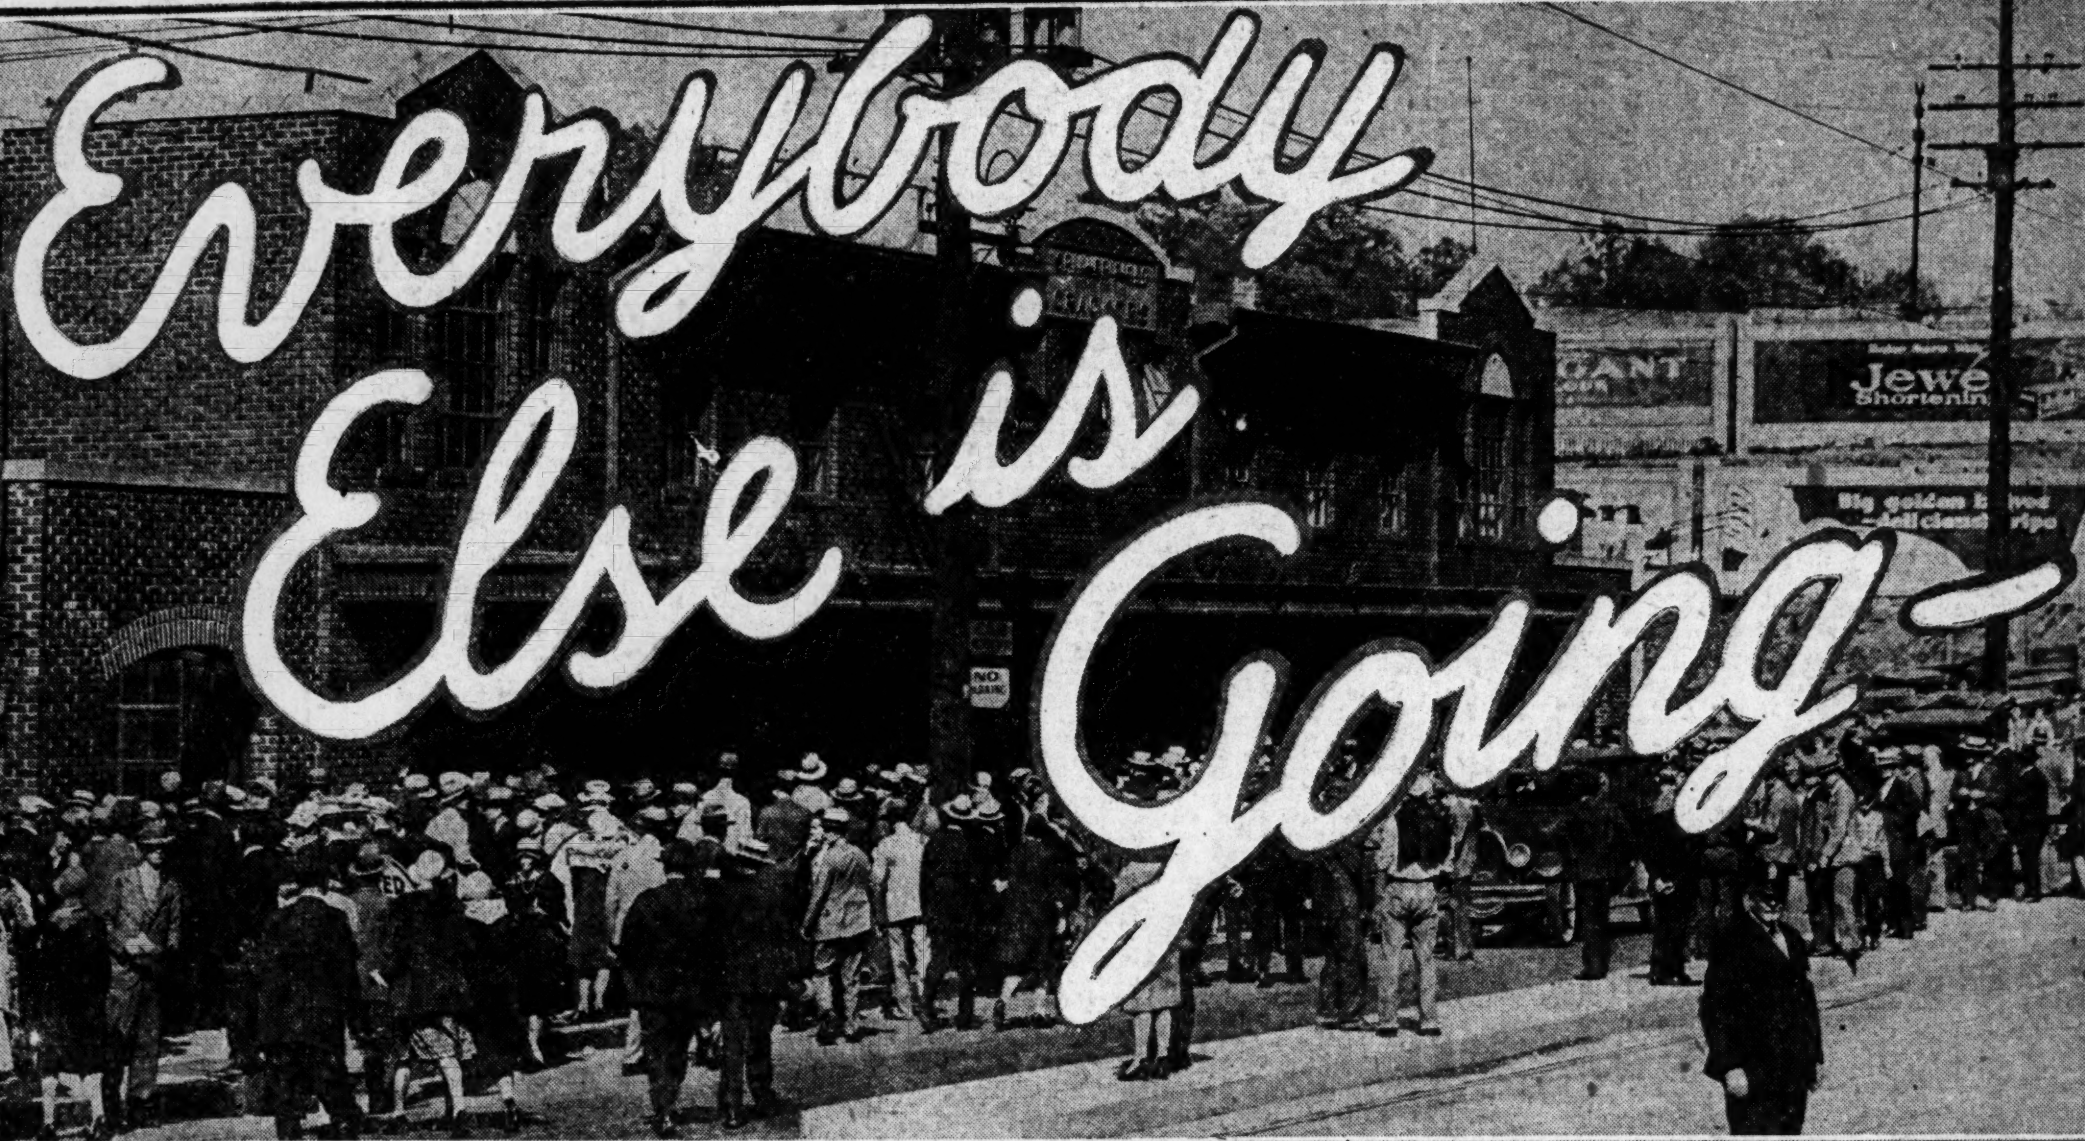

Joe Shaw, the construction engineer, writing for Chester Horton's golf tips, says in his note:

"For a dub golfer it certainly is a great joy to know that for two cents he can get something handed to him—he spent 15 years trying to accomplish."

"If the drive can be corrected for two cents I wonder what it is going to cost to correct the approach and putt?"

BARRED FROM CONVERSATION.

The reason the recently popular ailment, psittacosis, has not spread and become a national menace is because nobody can pronounce it.

MACON TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

Southeastern Sand Greens Meet Draws Many Entries.

MACON, Ga., April 16.—Virtually every detail has been completed and entries already are being received for the first annual southeastern sand greens golf tournament, which will transpire here next week. The tournament is to be played over the Macon public golf course, opens Thursday and continues through Sunday.

Amateur golfers from five states—Georgia, Florida, Alabama and the Carolinas—are expected to take part. The players are not restricted to members of clubs having sand greens, however.

The qualifying round will be played Thursday at 10 holes. The first round of match play will be in order Friday, the second round Saturday morning and the semi-finals Saturday afternoon. The finals, over the 36-hole route, will be held Sunday. Trophies will be awarded the low scoring team, the low medalist, winners and runners-up in five flights and to winners of the first and second consolation flights.

The championship flight will be for possession of the Macon Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy, symbolic of the sand greens champion of the southeast.

During the tournament the Southeastern Sand Greens Golf Association will be organized. An elaborate social entertainment program has been arranged for the duration of the tournament.

J. Neville Birch, Jr., of the Macon public golf course, is chairman of the rules committee, composed of the following: Murrell Ross, Idle Hour Club, Macon; A. S. Goss, Radium Springs Club, Albany; R. E. Hightower, Jr., Matthews County Club, Thomas, Ga.; and W. M. Oliver, Valdosta Country Club.

The tournament is under the direction of John L. Morris as general chairman. Other members of the tournament committee are Joe Kaplan, Alex Cameron, Harper Williams and Joe Massey. Entrance fees of $3 each should be addressed to Mr. Morris, care of The Macon Telegraph.

The Heathen Wins In $10,000 Feature

BALTIMORE, Md., April 16.—(AP) Dashing through a light rain, Low Heathen galloped to an easy victory in the $10,000 Harford handicap at Havre de Grace today.

The tournament is under the direction of John L. Morris as general chairman. Other members of the tournament committee are Joe Kaplan, Alex Cameron, Harper Williams and Joe Massey. Entrance fees of $3 each should be addressed to Mr. Morris, care of The Macon Telegraph.

McNamara, Steele said, apparently was displeased over being left out of the Peb lineup in the first two games of the season and after the game with Memphis today turned in his uniform by another player and left.

The desiring player was signed last fall as a free agent and was to have been carried on the club roster as a utility outfielder.

McNamara's departure and the release of Fred Walters leaves the Little Rock club with only 16 players. The two places to complete the 18-player limit will be filled soon, Steele said.

MORRIS BEATS WELCH AT T.H.S.

Smithy Boxers Close Tourny With Good Fights—8 Crowned.

Two extra round fights and one knockout featured the boxing championships at Tech High school Wednesday afternoon on the Henry Grady court. A packed auditorium saw the eight fight program, which was one of the best amateur meets ever staged in the city. There was not a dull moment during the entire program.

Sears, G. I. A. flyweight champion, started the afternoon with a decision over Chetson, a Fort McPherson youth. Sears' aggressiveness won the decision.

Lon Campbell defeated Harold Knight for the bantamweight title of the school. Campbell had a slight advantage in the first and last rounds and was plenty fast.

Sol Levine won from Hilley, a racy youth. Hilley had won every one of his preliminary fights by knockouts but met an experienced fighter in Levine Wednesday afternoon. It was for the featherweight title.

Lewis won a technical knockout over Booth in the second round, for the lightweight title. Wilson won the welterweight title from McNamara in an extra round. Lackland was the victor over Morgan for the middleweight title.

Paul Collins won the light-heavyweight title from Walter Hinson in an extra round. It was the first fight for Hinson. He won his preliminary bouts by forfeits.

Mutt Morris, captain of the 1930 football team, defeated Mike Welch, captain of the 1929 football eleven, for the heavyweight title. It was one of the best scraps on the program.

Each of the winners will be given a letter and a gold medal by the school. M. C. Bishop, coach of the Tech High boxing team, staged the tournament. The referee was the referee in the preliminaries and finals.

Kaye Don Sails; Back Next Year

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP) Kaye Don, British automobile racer, who landed here March 4 with high hopes of breaking the world's straightaway speed record, sailed for home today after a series of unsuccessful attempts at Daytona Beach, but with the assertion that he would return next year for another try.

"Had I not believed I could exceed the present record of 231 miles per hour," he said, "I would not have spent $50,000 on the trip here."

"Naturally I am coming back next year to make a new try. If the machine had worked perfectly we could not have made the run because of the condition of the beach."

"Of the 31 days we were at Daytona, 25 were rainy."

Don's five-ton supermar, the Silver Bullet, will be shipped on another boat next week when Louis Costanzo, its designer, also plans to return to England. Don was accompanied by five members of his mechanical staff.

ATLANTA OPENS SEASON AT HOME THIS AFTERNOON

Early Lead Gives Look-outs Victory in Second Game of Season.

By Ralph McGill.

Constitution Staff Correspondent. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 16.—That loud roar of protest which must have reached Atlanta this afternoon came from the Crackers in the seventh inning of a game which they eventually lost to Chattanooga by a 6-to-5 score.

It followed a decision by Umpire Buck Campbell in the seventh which sent the tying run back to third base, a decision that practically ended a rally which had already scored four runs.

Trailing 6 to 1 as they started in the seventh, the Crackers waited out Pitcher Joe Martincano, called Marty, while Johnny Dobbs rattled him clear out of the box by his coaching from first.

Joe Martincano, called Marty, walked three men, while Johnny Dobbs yelled and slapped his hands. Lute Roy came in and walked another, forcing in a run. Jack Sheehan went to third, he having made second on Johnston's sacrifice.

Then came the play. Walker was up. Sheehan was on third with the bat. Walker was rattled. Langford was on first. That's the setting. Walker fell away from the plate on a pitched ball and the ball struck his bat and bounded all the way to first base, going fast. Boss rushed in and fielded the ball, throwing quickly to the plate to catch Sheehan. The throw was wild. Sheehan scored.

AMAZING DECISION. Walker, shaking his hands, scrambled up and rushed to first base before the ball was fielded by Kenna, the catcher. And to the amazement of all Umpire Campbell ruled that the ball had struck Walker and not the bat. Walker was left at first and scored as being hit by a pitched ball. Sheehan, with the tying run, was sent back to third.

Buzzie next up, hit into a double play and the rally was over. Umpire Campbell was undoubtedly sincere in his decision. He called it as he saw it. It was simply one of those breaks that come now and then to any team. It seemed all the more unfortunate today because of the situation which existed when it occurred.

The testimony in the case was so far as the writers could see from the press box the ball struck nearer the end of the bat than Walker's hands.

DOBS ALMOST EJECTED. Walker's hands showed no sign of a bruise although the ball was a fast one. Walker said the ball did not strike him. Johnny Dobbs, who was coaching at first, was all but ejected from the box because of his protest.

Walker said he was not trying to hit the ball and the bat was loose. He said the ball struck his hands. Umpire Campbell ruled that the ball struck Walker's hand and rolled all the way to first. Walker, he said, gave the play away by shaking his hands. Umpire Campbell rolled out the hands. Umpire Campbell ruled that the ball struck Walker's hand and rolled all the way to first. Walker, he said, gave the play away by shaking his hands.

As an extra round was scored. The Crackers tried desperately and filled the bases in the eighth but lacked the punch to get the ball over.

In the ninth the bases were filled with two out but Blenheim rolled out as he tried for a hit that would tie the score.

AD, SAD STORY. And so one must again relate the sad, sad story of how the Crackers died with their boots on. They went down the flag and had it not been for the advice of the manager, they have knocked Knott out in the seventh. He was wobbling on the brink of disaster all the time.

The Crackers went off to a bad start when Don Brennan, hopelessly out of condition, tried to pitch. Brennan.

Diegel Points for Match With Abe Mitchell and World's Golf Title

FAMOUS PROS MEET MAY 22 IN FIRST PLAY

American Ace Already
Holds P. G. A. and Canadian Crown.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 16.—(AP)—The "nervous putter," as Leo Diegel now well may be termed since his famous and unorthodox stance has proved him at once one of the world's worst formists but best golfers, hopes to become the world's champion.

There'll be no huge gate of gold to pour added wealth into his jeans. He will invade England, where the galleries pay less and whose clubs offer less than the large purses that spill out young fortunes to golfers in the United States.

GREAT FEAT.

Should Diegel succeed in winning the world's golf championship when he meets Abe Mitchell, English title holder, in England next month, he will have accomplished something no other professional golfer even has dreamed of doing.

Never has a golfer held three important championships in one year, yet Diegel—now possessor of the American professional crown and the Canadian open title—hopes to add the world pro crown to his trophy collection by defeating Mitchell.

The match has been arranged. Late in April Diegel will leave Agua Caliente, Mexico, where he holds forth seasonally as the club's professional, to cross the Atlantic. The first two meetings will be staged May 22 and 27 over prominent English courses. A third match, if necessary, will be held in England also.

GREAT IN MATCHES.

Mitchell is one of the greatest match-play golfers. He went four years without losing a match after having abandoned amateur ranks for the professional lure. Walter Hagen was the first to defeat Mitchell as a pro.

Diegel will have one advantage over the English champ. He knows Mitchell can be beaten. Leo turned back Abe during the 1929 Ryder cup matches in England. During that meeting Diegel shot the greatest golf of his career, such golf that Bobby Jones, of Georgia, called him the most brilliant shot maker in the world.

ALL-TIME RECORD.

Leo scored a round of five against Mitchell in the first half of their 1929 match and then went in 33 for the first 9 in the afternoon. He added a birdie on the 10th hole to finish the 28 holes with a score of 102, possibly an all-time record for match play. Diegel won the match, 9 and 8.

Can They Repeat?

Batting Champions Face Tough Road

The major league batting champions of 1929 are going to have a tough time repeating this season. Lew Fonseca, left, of Cleveland, and American champion, is sure to be somewhat handicapped by his long winter illness. Lefty O'Doul, Philadelphia's National League champion, is in good shape, but the league is full of sluggers this season.

By William Ritt.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 16.—The batting champions of the major leagues—Lew Fonseca, of Cleveland and the American league, and Lefty O'Doul, of Philadelphia and the National circuit—are going to have their troubles, and many of them, in their efforts to repeat their 1929 successes.

In fact, Fonseca has little chance to repeat. Illness has hampered him all winter and into spring and though he now appears to have recovered the strain has been a tough one. The difference between a batting champion and a fairly good hitter is the ability to beat out the close ones at first and in the early weeks of the season when most players get their heaviest hitting a convalescent can hardly expect to be a flash on the base paths.

Unless Heinie Monush, of the Browns, or Goose Goslin, of the Senators, come through, a batting champion new to the top of the American league heap can be expected. Heinie and the Goosie are the only men to lead the American league who suffer no handicap through injury or have become too old to have much of a chance to win out this year again. And the Goosie will have to enjoy a tremendous reversal over his poor 1929 exhibition to get anywhere at all.

NEW CHAMP.

The new champion most probably will be one of the new men, the group which include Jimmy Fox and Mickey Cochrane, of the Athletics; Dale Alexander and Charley Gehring, of the Tigers; Earl Averill, of the Indians; Earl Combs, of the Yankees. Al Simmons, of the Athletics, suffering from rheumatism, and Babe Ruth, having trouble with a charleyhorse and an aging pair of legs, do not look formidable at this time, though you never can tell.

HANDICAPPED.

Three of O'Doul's most formidable foes of last year are suffering from injuries or illness, which may handicap them sufficiently to prevent their entering the battle for the title. They are Rogers Hornsby, of the Cubs, whose bum heel has become a national emblem; Pie Traynor, of the Pirates, suffering with an infected eye, and Lloyd Waner, also of the Pirates, recuperating slowly from an appendicitis operation.

State Teachers Stage Field Day

ATHENS, Ga., April 16.—One of the most exciting field days ever held at the Georgia State Teachers' College was staged today. This was the third field day of the year and at the outset the points were so evenly divided that it was possible for any class to win. The sophomores succeeded in winning a majority of points and are now the proud possessors of a beautiful loving cup.

Volley ball was won by the sophomores after defeating the juniors and seniors. The winning team was composed of: Misses: Mary, Elizabeth, Sarah Hall, Albany; Sue E. Newcomb, Reynolds; Marjorie Oxford, Dawson; Sara White, Mayfield; Elizabeth Williams, Camilla; Lucy Williams, Camilla, and Wilma, Sault. The freshmen won the preliminary in the potato race but lost to the sophomores in the final. The winning sophomores team included: Misses Elizabeth and Lucy Williams, Camilla; Martha Watson, Fitzgerald; Catherine Casey, Cave Springs; Hattie Jean Hanson, Shiloh; Arlie Hornsby, Condit; Helen Jones, Glenwood, and Helen Young, Reynolds.

The dash was won by Miss Hattie Jean Hanson, of Shiloh. Other close contestants in this event were Miss Annie Laurie Turner, Corvinton, and Miss Carolyn Blount, Wrightsville. The freshmen were victorious in the relay. The runners were: Misses: Mary, Elizabeth, Sarah Hall, Albany; Sue E. Newcomb, Reynolds; Marjorie Oxford, Dawson; Sara White, Mayfield; Elizabeth Williams, Camilla; Lucy Williams, Camilla, and Wilma, Sault. The freshmen won the preliminary in the potato race but lost to the sophomores in the final. The winning sophomores team included: Misses Elizabeth and Lucy Williams, Camilla; Martha Watson, Fitzgerald; Catherine Casey, Cave Springs; Hattie Jean Hanson, Shiloh; Arlie Hornsby, Condit; Helen Jones, Glenwood, and Helen Young, Reynolds.

Sam Baker Arrives And Holds Workout

Goodrich's Foe Plans Hard Training for Bout
April 22—Ted Back From Chicago.

Sergeant Sammy Baker, the Huntsville, Ala., military man himself, came to town Tuesday morning yawning and stretched a bit and then went to Roby's gymnasium where he fooled around with the weights and limbered up generally preparatory to beginning serious work today for his fight next Tuesday with Ted Goodrich, Atlanta's own and dangerous welterweight.

The sergeant is fresh from Pittsburgh where he fought a tough fight with Victor Hambright, in a 10-round affair Monday night. Baker, says his manager, Nick Florio, had Hambright on the floor twice and one of those times the referee counted only 10 but the referee got only as far as nine. Hambright got up and the fight continued.

Baker is looking for trouble from Goodrich and says that he plans a siege of serious training for the bout. Goodrich is recognized as a tough, brawling sort of pugilist and when he hits, the subject usually feels the blow.

Ted is one of the most up and coming of this morning's waterwolves and he is looking for a victory over Baker. It wasn't many weeks ago that he sat Joe Dundee on the head of his hat and suddenly one of those times the referee counted only 10 but the referee got only as far as nine. Hambright got up and the fight continued.

Monday night at Chicago while "Sargint" Baker was beating back the yellow peril, Ted was losing a decision to a Mexican named Rios. Ted fought a good fight, but his defeat was just one of those things that happen.

Goodrich and L. C. Warren, his manager, returned Wednesday from Chicago and both were something approaching indignant over reports from the Cave of Winds that Ted had been on the floor more than once during the bout.

TIGERS BEAT TECH, 7 TO 4

to right field. He stole second, just to be moved. Scott Pullen batted a hard ball to third base, and was safe as Lloyd juggled it. Brosnan took third on the play. Pullen stole second just to be that much nearer the plate. Captain Red Terrell helped things along with a smacking double which scored both runners. He was left there as McKee popped out.

Then in the fifth inning the Brosnan-Pullen combine pooled assets again. And again they both scored. And again two were out when the runs started dropping in.

OUT OF THE PARK.

Brosnan got his second single. Pullen, not sure that his luck would hold, swung hard. It was Primus, not Lloyd, who made the error. Primus steamed a fast one right through Pullen's private groove. And Pullen, highly pleased, lifted it out of the park. Pullen trotted round the bases, Brosnan grinning his way ahead. The blow was the second home run hit in competition at the Flats this year and both are chalked to Pullen's credit.

That was all for the Jackets. They couldn't even get a hit, much less a run, thereafter.

And the Tigers, who had seen two men left on bases in the first inning, two more stranded in the second, and one left with no place to go in the third, had done little good. True enough, they had made but one hit, that Primus' single in the second. Four passes and one error was all the damage up to this point.

The sixth, however, was a different tale. Three Tigers crossed the plate to even things somewhat. Newton doubled with one out. Burt made it two out with no advance. Lloyd drew another of the frequent passes. And Kaley obligingly sent both home with a tearing triple to center field. Kaley got his chance to score when Lewis singled. Primus worked Brosnan for a pass, but Pullen saved the day by reaching behind his ear to snag Hodges' line drive which was headed for the open spaces.

The seventh saw one Tiger run, one Tiger hit, and three Jacket pitchers. Brosnan forced Riley to fly to right. He watched the ball bounce from Crawford's bat for a triple. Earl Dunlap was sent to the mound to relieve him. It was Dunlap's initial appearance in the hurling role. Dunlap threw four balls to Newton. Mitchum relieved him. And Mitchum walked Burt and Lloyd in succession, the latter pass forcing Crawford across the plate. Kaley was safe as Newton was thrown out at home. And then, with one strike and three balls on Lewis, Kaley thought, it was too bad. He thought it was four balls and started to second. The Jackets were dumfounded for a moment, but finally regained their senses in time to nip him off first base. The score was tied.

PATE ENDS IT.

The score remained tied through the eighth. The Tigers got one hit and drew one pass, but could not convert. The Jackets went out in order. In the ninth young Frank Merrill—willard of "Rock" Pate—got in his work—and it was too bad. The Jackets could do no good. The Jackets will be forced to try again this afternoon, when the two teams tangle in the final game at the Flats, starting at 4 o'clock.

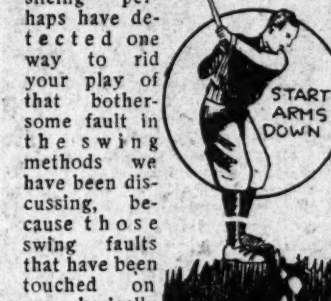

Freshmen Lose To Bowdon, 4-2.

Playing ball of a most sloppy sort, Georgia Tech's freshmen nine dropped a 4-2 decision to the Bowdon State College team at the Rose Bowl field Wednesday afternoon. The Junior Jackets committed six miscues, all of them figuring in the scoring of Bowdon runs. One failed to count a single earned tally.

Young Reynolds, Lewis Collins, Camilla; Arlie Hornsby, Condit; Frances Hewitt, Weston; Bess McDaniel, Albany; Marjorie Oxford, Dawson; Sara White, Mayfield; Elizabeth Williams, Camilla; Lucy Williams, Camilla, and Wilma, Sault. The freshmen won the preliminary in the potato race but lost to the sophomores in the final. The winning sophomores team included: Misses Elizabeth and Lucy Williams, Camilla; Martha Watson, Fitzgerald; Catherine Casey, Cave Springs; Hattie Jean Hanson, Shiloh; Arlie Hornsby, Condit; Helen Jones, Glenwood, and Helen Young, Reynolds.

We started out to find the reason for the ball that keeps going off to the left, and many of you who are bothered with slicing perhaps have detected one way to rid your play of that bothersome fault in the swing methods we have been discussing, because those swing faults that have been touched on are basically the real cause of most of your golfing ills. The correct golf swing is an easy, smooth action, only the bad golf swing is awkward and jerky. Men get the swing "grooved" as the saying is, only by reducing the thing to one simple action, which leaves them with virtually nothing to think about while they are swinging. I think most of you can do that, too, if you will get the theory of getting the club, which means your arms; started downward first, so that the club gets away in the lead and leads throughout. This makes a vast difference, and most assuredly will make a great difference with you if you have not heretofore had that advantage in golf. This correct theory, incidentally, applies with any swing you have, regardless of its perfection or lack of it.

Thus the semi-final matches tomorrow find only Doeg, of the eight ranking players in action. He rates third. Bell ranks ninth, Mangin tenth and Pare does not come in the first ten. Doeg meets Bell and Pare meets Mangin.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

Teddy Hurvell and Robert Crossland, Charlotte, N. C., beat Marvin Lake, Boston and Bob McMillan, University of Wisconsin, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4. George Lott and John Doeg beat Andrew Bickett, New York and Herbert D. Vail, Pinehurst, 6-2, 6-2. Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn beat Bryan Grant, Atlanta and Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., 6-3, 6-7. Fritz Mercer and J. Gilbert Hall won by default.

In the women's singles matches today, Mrs. Marian Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., seeded No. 1, beat Miss Dorothy Anderson, of Greenwich, Conn., 6-2, 6-3. In the other match of the bracket, Miss Virginia Rice, of Boston, defeated Mrs. Agnes Lamme, of New York, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Penelope Anderson, of Richmond, Va., seeded No. 2, beat Mrs. Marion Jessup, 6-2, 6-4. Miss Virginia Hines, of Philadelphia, beat Miss Marjorie Morrill, of Boston, 6-2, 6-2.

Favorites Continue To Fall by Wayside in Net
Tourney at Pinehurst.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 16.—(AP)—Favorites continued to fall in fast and furious fashion today in the North and South tennis tournament. George Lott, fourth ranking player, succumbed before the determined onslaught of Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J., by a 9-11, 6-2, 6-3 count.

John Van Ryn, the slender Orange, N. J., star who ranks fifth, dropped out as he was outstruck and outfought by Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Texas. The scores were 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

J. Gilbert Hall, of East Orange, N. J., who yesterday downed Francis T. Hunter, was easily put out of the race by Emmet Pare, of Dayton, Ohio, 6-2, 6-1. Even Johnny Doeg, the California giant, found the going difficult and was barely able to nose out Clifford Sutter, 19-year-old Tulane sophomore, in a three-set match. He won 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The semi-final matches tomorrow find only Doeg, of the eight ranking players in action. He rates third. Bell ranks ninth, Mangin tenth and Pare does not come in the first ten. Doeg meets Bell and Pare meets Mangin.

Large Crowd Sees Jack Dempsey Work

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 16.—(AP)—A crowd of nearly 5,000 fight fans assembled at Municipal auditorium here Tuesday night to see Jack Dempsey referee the main bout of a 32-round card.

Dempsey was given an ovation as he appeared in the ring to referee the final bout between Alex Simms and Gunner Deparrat. Early in the second round Simms landed a left hook to the chin of the Gunner for a clean knockout and ended Dempsey's official stay in Chattanooga.

The Red Rocket
of Pontiac's finer performance

Beginning today, you'll see the car with the RED ROCKET on the streets and boulevards of this city. It is a New Series Pontiac Big Six, marked with a RED ROCKET to symbolize its remarkable speed, pick-up and power. This demonstrator is on the streets for two reasons. First, so you can obtain a vivid impression of its speed, its quick getaway, its smoothness and easy handling. Second, so you can receive a demonstration on the spot—anytime, anywhere you see this car. We want you to take the wheel. For only in this way is it possible to realize what excellent performance you can now enjoy in this new low-priced six!

SPEED AND POWER. Pontiac's 60 horsepower engine, with 200 cubic inch piston displacement, is the largest in any six of its price. This accounts for Pontiac's exceptional top speed, its swift acceleration, and its abundant power on the hills.

SMOOTHNESS. This engine is also very smooth because of its new-type rubber mountings and its Harmonic Balancer which counteracts torsional crankshaft vibration.

EASY HANDLING AND RIDING. A new steering system acting on roller bearings and improved four-wheel brakes make this car delightfully easy to handle. And riding is unusually smooth, thanks to its comfortable new Fisher bodies with mohair upholstery of excellent quality, and improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers.

Now ask to drive the car with the RED ROCKET. Or come to our salesroom, where you can learn about Pontiac's reliability, economy and long life. A demonstration will show you what splendid performance Pontiac now is offering at very low cost.

THREE BANDITS ROSE SKIRMISH WITH POLICE

Pedestrians, Theater Crowds See New Orleans Street Battle.

NEW ORLEANS, April 16.—(AP)—Three bandits last night fought a losing gun battle with police and determined officials and employees of a loan office they unsuccessfully attempted to rob, while hundreds of pedestrians and theatergoers looked on as thrilled spectators under Canal street's white way lights.

As Charles Devitt 45, employee of the Security Loan Office on South Rampart street, just off Canal, in the theater district, was closing the front doors of the establishment for the night, while hundreds of pedestrians and theatergoers looked on as thrilled spectators under Canal street's white way lights.

Devitt's body thudding to the floor attracted the attention of a patrolman, 23, a clerk, who struck one of the invaders on the jaw. His punch was ineffective and the bandit retaliated by hitting him with a revolver. Unconscious, Ehrman made an effort to secure a gun but was knocked unconscious by a second blow.

With a tray of money worth $75,000 in his hands, Edmund Villers, 32, secretary-treasurer of the loan company, concealed himself and the cash behind a counter.

The bandits seemed to be having things their own way until Samuel Rosman, president of the company, made a dash for the rear of the building to get a shotgun loaded with tear gas. One of the bandits fired five ineffectual shots at him.

Rosman got the gun and opened fire, forcing the bandits to flight, with the assistance of Ehrman, who, regaining consciousness and finally obtaining the revolver he was seeking when slugged the second time, fired six shots at the bandits.

The stickmen in their flight almost ran into two policemen who poured lead at the fleeing bandits.

The men were pursued by police but were lost at South Rampart street and Tulane avenue after a number of shots were exchanged.

Surprise Promised In Julian Expose

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—(AP)—Sensational developments in the grand jury's new probe of the Julian Petroleum Corporation debacle were awaited today with the announcement of District Attorney Burton Fitts that indictments charging conspiracy to commit bribery would be returned against at least three men prominent in state political and financial circles.

The names of those against whom true bills have been prepared have not been made public. The company failed after a huge over-issue of stock.

Meanwhile investigators from the district attorney's office were conducting an exhaustive probe into the death yesterday in an automobile accident of Robert Bursian, 31, undercover man for Fitts and alleged key-witness in new phases of the Julian investigation. Bursian's body badly mangled, was found under his wrecked car at the bottom of a canyon near Beverly Hills.

Evidence gathered at the scene of the wreck, police said, indicated that Bursian's machine left the highway as he sped around a curve at the top of a hill between Beverly Hills and the ocean.

"It was not foul play, it was a remarkable coincidence," Fitts said.

RIVER FREIGHTER SUNK BY COLLISION

PALATKA, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—The Daytona, 60-ton freighter, operated by the Palatka, Deland and Sanford line, sank in the St. Johns river near Mandarin, Fla., last night, following a collision with the Hiawatha. The latter boat is operated by the Palatka and Jacksonville line.

H. M. Demontmolin, president of the P. & J. Company, in making the announcement today, said an investigation of the collision would be made by federal anti-trust inspectors.

The Daytona was said to have been loaded with more than 500 sacks of sugar and merchandise.

Gandhi's Demands Published

Y. M. C. A. OFFICER GETS COPY OF ALLAHABAD PUBLICATION
In Indian Paper Received Here

Mahatma Gandhi's "tale of India's ruin," a copy of his letter sent to the viceroy and a list of Gandhi's 11 demands on Lord Irwin, are printed in the Leader, an English publication, issued March 9 at Allahabad, which was received in Atlanta Wednesday by J. W. Stanley, resident foreign secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association here.

"Before embarking on civil disobedience," Gandhi, according to the Leader, said, "and taking the risk I have decided to take all these years, I would have approached you and found a way out. British rule has impoverished the dumb millions by a system of progressive exploitation and by a ruinously expensive military and civil administration which the country can never afford. On bonded knee, I ask you to ponder over this phenomenon. However disorganized and for the time being insignificant it may be, the party of violence is gaining ground and is making itself felt. Having an unquestioning and inviolable faith in the efficacy of non-violence, it would be sinful on my part to wait any longer.

"This non-violence," Gandhi adds, "will be expressed through civil disobedience, for the moment confined to the inmates of the Satyagraha Ashram, but it is ultimately designed to cover all those who choose to join the movement, with its obvious limitations. If my letter takes no appeal to your heart, on the 11th day of this month I shall proceed, with such co-workers of the Ashram as I can take, to disregard the provisions of the salt laws. It is open to you to frustrate my design by arresting me. I hope there will be tens of thousands ready in a disciplined manner to take up the work after me."

His 11 demands on Lord Irwin are:

1. Total prohibition.

2. Reduction of the exchange rate to 1s. 4d.

3. Reduction of land revenue to at

Three Are Injured

In Crash of Autos

Three persons were injured Wednesday night when a parked automobile in which they were sitting on Marietta street was struck by another machine, driven by an unknown white man, who left the scene of the accident without giving his name.

The car was parked in front of 1000 Marietta street, facing west. The second machine approached from the east and, according to witnesses, was driving on the wrong side of the street. It struck the parked machine and Miss Ruby Stoe, 16, of 683 Marietta street, was injured about the face and head. Fred Stoe, 5, same address, also suffered severe lacerations about the head and possible internal injuries.

All were taken to Georgia Baptist hospital for treatment and allowed to go home. It is said that the driver of the machine which caused the crash leaped from his car and then climbed back and fled the scene. Police have the license number of his car.
